PLAN SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY BEFORE WHEELER CASE JURY

Un-named Attorney to Testify Against Senator Prosecutor Says

Great Falls, Mont. April 17.—Promising testimony of sensational character, the prosecution pressed forward rapidly today in its efforts to prove to a jury in federal court here that Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, violated his oath of office, by accepting a fee to represent a client before the interior department. As a result of the declaration of John L. Slattery, U. S. attorney, that an unnamed Washington D. C. lawyer would take the stand within a few days and testify that Wheeler proposed an agreement to the lawyer whereby both could make millions out of Montana oil lands obtained through interior department permits, the atmosphere of the court room was surcharged with high explosives at the second day of the trial.

Slattery steadfastly refused today to name the attorney, saying: "I won't divulge his name because I don't want to tip off the defense. The lawyer will be here. Wheeler knows him."

Wheeler denounced Slattery's statement as "ridiculous."

"It's all news to me," said Wheeler.

The plan by which "millions" were to be made, according to Slattery was through an agreement by which the mysterious lawyer was to handle oil permits of Gordon Campbell, Montana oil man, before the department.

Wheeler is being tried for representing Campbell. After permits had been obtained, Slattery said, Wheeler proposed that he and the lawyer "should go halves" in returns from the oil lands. Wheeler explained, said Slattery, that being a senator he could not appear before the department because of a prohibiting federal statute.

"The plan would have been worth millions to them," said Slattery.

Speculation ran rampant today as to the lawyer to whom Slattery referred. Three Washington attorneys have been called as witnesses. Two, A. H. Furr and Peter G. Nyce, were summoned by the government; one, William S. Feely, by the defense.

Furr, formerly secretary to Edwin S. Booth, formerly solicitor of the interior, said today he knew nothing whatever about any million dollar agreement, and would say so on the stand.

According to testimony before the Senate committee that investigated the present indictment, Furr attended a conference between Booth, Wheeler, Nyce and Campbell in the department.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE NEW EVIDENCE LEARNED

Indicted Man Expected To Furnish New Information in Haynes Scandal

Cleveland, O., April 17.—A special federal grand jury will march into the maze of new developments in the Haynes distillery permit scandal by a new road, built upon information gleaned since the initial investigation several weeks ago, when it convenes Wednesday.

Peter J. Higgins, Youngstown millionaire broker and former liquor dealer and one of those under indictment for conspiracy among the ten indicted during the first probe, will testify before the jury Wednesday. His evidence is expected to be sensational and to involve a prominent Cleveland broker among others of prominence.

Subpoenas were issued for Pat J. Scanlon, Edward J. Scanlon, Frank J. Eckles and Carl Fleps, all of whom were among the first ten indicted. They all are from Youngstown.

The investigation centers on how 22,000 gallons of whiskey was shipped on federal permits from the Haynes distillery at Troy, Ohio, to the Arm and Drug and Candy Company of Cleveland and its subsequent diversion to bootleg trade.

PLANT DESTROYED

Grafton, W. Va., April 17.—Fire, believed to have been started by card game participants, today destroyed the Royal Glas plant here with an estimated loss of $365,000.

CREW BRINGS STOGIE TO MOORINGS AFTER THRILLING FLIGHT

Vessel Blown Away Is Safely Piloted on Its Return Trip

Pulham, Eng., April 17.—Safe at home after her twenty nine hour battle with gales over the North sea, the dirigible R-33 was brought to her mooring mast here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

As the R-33 sailed over the aerodrome, a crowd of several hundred persons let out a tremendous roar of welcome. The ship's nose was badly flattened and there was a huge hole in its port side, from which canvas flapped in the wind.

The two heavy artillery wheels which the ship pulled when it broke loose yesterday were still attached. The fact that the big bag was punctured, made the trip a remarkable experience and its safe return miraculous achievement, aerodrome officers declared.

Lieutenant Booth wirelessed he thought there was not much damage done to the R-33, while on the return trip.

The praise of the air ministry went forward by radio to greet the returning air adventurers.

"Your efforts are splendid and redounding to the credit of you all," Air Marshal General Salmond wirelessed to the ship.

Aviation authorities here were greatly pleased with the remarkable judgment shown by Lieutenant Booth, who is only 30, but is considered to have handled the R-33 during her great struggle like a veteran air master.

Another of the crew receiving compliments was Spencer Koely, 20 year old Irish boy, a junior wireless operator, who was the only radio expert aboard the runaway airship. He kept the dirigible in constant communication with the anxious shore stations since her escape more than twenty-four hours ago.

STEPHENSON HOUSE ATTACKED BY FIRE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN

Believe Attempt Made To Blow Up Home Of Former Dragon Of Klan

Indianapolis, Ind., April 17.—Flames, believed to have been of incendiary origin, early today swept through the palatial home of David C. Stephenson, ex-grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, who is under indictment on charges of criminally attacking Miss Madge Oberholzer, 28.

Stephenson was not at home when the fire occurred.

Neighbors told authorities the flames shot high into the air at the Stephenson residence following an explosion.

Firemen found a quantity of kerosene and gasoline near the house. Inside, all gas jets were found open.

Miss Oberholzer died from the effects of the poison she drank after the attack with which the former klan leader was charged.

Stephenson deserted the house several days ago to live in a downtown hotel, following the filing of a suit against the former klan leader by a woman in Oklahoma who represented herself as his former wife.

Several months ago, Stephenson's yacht was dynamited at Toledo, but he was not hurt.

Fearing further attempts to destroy the house, Stephenson appealed to police to station a guard at the entrance. Four patrolmen were detailed to this duty.

The property loss by the fire was estimated at $1500.

WOULD CHANGE VOTE ON APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, April 17.—Possibility of reconsideration of the vote by which the senate rejected Governor Donahy's appointment of Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, as a member of the state utilities commission, was being considered today.

Senator Will I. Comings, Lorain, told International News Service today he would change his vote and vote for confirmation if the matter was again brought up. He said he would also move for reconsideration if backers of the appointment thought it advisable.

Comings said, however, that he did not consider confirmation possible because of the fact that at least three senators were ready to change their votes and vote against confirmation if the question was revived.

RECORD QUAKE

Hungry All The Time? Here's Answer

LECTURER WILL TELL WHAT FOODS "STICK TO RIBS"

How often is heard the remark, "I eat three good meals a day and yet I'm hungry all the time."

How few people know this is because they are not eating "satisfying" foods, "eats" which "stick to the ribs?"

This is a problem to which Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers, the cookery expert who will lecture and give cookery lessons at the Gazette and Republican Cooking School at McKinley Auditorium next week, has given very serious thought.

Not alone in her domestic science work, but in her hospital training, and later in actual hospital experience, she has worked out the problem of feeding the hungry child, the business woman, the housekeeping woman, the man who does manual labor, as well as the office man. In her lecture, "Hungry All The Time," which is one of the four to be presented at her school here next week, she will, out of a thoroughly scientific background of knowledge and experience, give some very practical and easily followed suggestions for troubled mothers and wives along this particular line of feeding the family.

ALL CLASSES INTERESTED

Every type of woman will find something of interest in Mrs. Brown-Lewers talks and cookery lessons. The newly-wed, who has had no training for the big job she has assumed, will get much help from the talks on proper feeding, on economical and wise buying; the experienced housewife will get many new ideas and some worthwhile recipes; the club woman and the domestic science teacher, nurse and dietitian, all will find food for thought, and plans for work, in this lecture and cookery course.

REPUBLICAN FORCES LAUNCH MOVE TO PASS PARTY BILLS OVER VETO

Taft Tells Colleagues to Pick Up Donahy's Challenge—Brown Gas Tax First To Be Passed Over Governor's Head

Columbus, April 17.—Voting twenty-one to fourteen the senate this afternoon passed the Buchanan bill requiring Bible reading in the public schools. The bill goes back to the house for concurrence in senate's action in amending title by adding name of Senator Clark, Champaign County.

Columbus, O., April 17.—Republican forces in the legislature today began their counter attacks against Governor Donahy and his wrecking crew.

Representative Robert A. Taft, Hamilton, Republican house floor leader, leading the attack, told members of the house as they prepared to pass thirty-seven program bills over the governor's veto, that they should take up the executive challenge and go before the people on their record.

The house at once passed the Brown gasoline tax bill over the governor's veto by a vote of 98 to 20.

Taft attacked Governor Donahy for listening to his unofficial advisers in killing legislation and assailed the methods they had employed in study of legislation.

"While the constitution gives the governor the right to veto legislation, it is not too much to say that the method pursued in this case is a gross abuse of the constitutional power," Taft asserted.

"That power is given to the governor for use in important and extraordinary cases to correct some real defect or mistaken policy in legislation. It is not intended that through a mere whim he should nullify the action of the representatives elected by the people."

"By his action, the governor has forfeited any right to speak with the authority with which a governor of Ohio should speak. Governor Donahy's whole interest is devoted to 'destructive criticism,' Taft charged. "He has apparently no ability to see any merit in a bill, or to see the necessity for solving any problem. He has failed to work out any problem himself."

BABE RUTH SUBMITS TO OPERATION AND WILL BE OUT OF GAME MONTH

New York, April 17.—Babe Ruth, baseball's most noted character, underwent a successful operation today for intestinal abscesses.

Ruth was resting easily, following the operation and his condition was entirely satisfactory, it was announced.

Ruth was on the operating table for upward of twenty minutes and a general anaesthetic was administered, the hospital authorities stated.

New York, April 17.—Babe Ruth will go under the knife at St. Vincent's Hospital today for what is termed a "minor operation" and the feeling is fast gaining strength that baseball's greatest attraction is much sicker than reports say. Ruth will be operated upon for intestinal abscesses, according to Doctors King and Stewart, who have added that the ordeal will be painful, but not at all serious.

Ruth will now be lost to the team for at least a month, a fact with

ELEVEN SOCIALISTS INCLUDED IN LIST OF NEW SELECTIONS

Three Former Premiers and Five Ex-ministers in New Cabinet

Paris, April 17.—There are eleven radical socialists in the new cabinet presented today to President Doumergue by Paul Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies. In addition there are three former premiers and five former ministers. The new ministers will present themselves to the chamber of deputies, Tuesday.

The makeup of the cabinet follows:

Premier and war minister—Paul Painleve.

Minister of Finance—Joseph Caillaux.

Foreign Affairs—Aristide Briand.

Justice—Theodore Steeg.

Interior—Sen. Abram Schrameck.

Marine—Emile Borel.

Public instruction and beaux arts—Anatole De Monzie.

Commerce—Charles Chaumet.

Agriculture—Jean Durand.

Labor—Antoine Durafour.

Colonies—Andre Hesse.

Public Works—Pierre Laval.

Pensions—Louis Antierou.

A cabinet communique issued by Painleve, read:

"The cabinet meets in the chamber of the president's palace at 9:30 o'clock Saturday to discuss terms of the ministerial message. They will present themselves to the chamber of deputies Tuesday. No member of the present government will participate in the political manifestation for the municipal elections May 2."

The crisis in French finances was emphasized by Caillaux, when he said to International News Service after the cabinet meeting:

"When I took the finance ministry for the second time in 1906, Premier Poincare said to me: 'You won't recognize the finance ministry, it is so changed.'"

"As a matter of fact conditions then were bad enough but after a fortnight I had everything in order. This time, however, I have never seen the nation's finances in such a deplorable condition. I cannot understand how they have been able to reduce their finances to such chaos. The situation necessitates drastic measures."

PAIR ARRESTED FOR IMPLICATION WITH LIST OF BURGLARIES

Sheriff Believes Jeffries Brothers Members Of Gang—Recovers Stolen Goods

With the arrest of two men, and a search being conducted for four, other Springfield men, Xenia and Springfield authorities believe that a series of baffling burglaries both in Greene County and Springfield have been partially cleared up.

Orville Jeffries, 24, Cedarville, colored, and his cousin William Jeffries, of Cedarville, are being held in the County Jail pending their probable arraignment either Friday or Saturday in Probate Court on a charge of perpetrating recent robberies in Bowersville, Cedarville and Jamestown. No charge has yet been placed against them.

They are believed to have been connected with the robbing of the Reeves and Bryant Clothing store in Jamestown Wednesday night, when between $1,000 and $1,500 worth of merchandise was stolen. Efforts will also be made to connect the pair with the burglary of the M. C. Nagley grocery store and the Ralph Wolford garage in Cedarville, and the theft of an automobile owned by Harry Hamman, Cedarville, all made the same night.

Authorities also have reason to think the same gang, of which the two men deny being members, robbed the Spencer poolroom in Cedarville, the Ross Store Company, in Bowersville and the Riglo pool room in Cedarville recently.

Beliefs are substantiated by the fact that a quantity of men's furnishings, such as ties, socks, handkerchiefs, shirts, caps, as well as numerous packages of cigarettes, and canned goods was found when a search was made of Orville Jeffries' home in Cedarville. A black jack was taken from him.

Sheriff Morris Sharp assisted by Deputy Marshal Calvin Ewry, of Cedarville and Springfield police, arrested the elder Jeffries at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances, on Butcher Street in Springfield Thursday.

William Jeffries, his cousin, was arrested Friday, officers finding several caps when he was arrested. A blackjack and burglar tools were found in Orville Jeffries' auto when he was arrested. Victimized merchants have identified part of the property recovered as theirs.

Both men deny perpetrating the series of robberies, but conflicting stories told by Orville Jeffries when questioned, will lead to an intensive investigation, according to Sheriff Sharp.

Springfield authorities are making an effort to connect the pair with a robbery in Springfield. The Hamman auto was found abandoned by Clark County officials who were driving to Cedarville early Thursday morning to trace a robbery in Springfield.

TROY GIRL MARRIES WEALTHY BROKER

New York, April 17.—A ten minute ceremony at the marriage license bureau today made Douglas Kent, a wealthy broker and Miss Margaret Chaffee of Troy, Ohio, man and wife.

Kent recently divorced his first wife, Marion Jenkins Kent, at Reno, giving her $3,000 a year alimony and $2,000 annually for the care of their seventeen year old daughter.

Blast Occurs During Funeral Service—Many Arrests Made

Sofia, April 17.—One hundred and forty persons, including six generals, was the death toll compiled today of the bomb explosion, which wrecked the Sveti Kral cathedral yesterday during the funeral of the assassinated General Kosla Gheorghieff.

The director of prisons was assassinated in the streets this afternoon and there were other disorders. Martial law has been proclaimed countrywide.

The dead in the cathedral disaster includes thirty army officers, ten women and many children.

Sofia, April 17.—Military rule was established today in Bulgaria as a result of the communist bomb outrage at the Sveti Kral cathedral. A number of arrests were made in the effort to round up the radicals responsible for the deaths of from thirty to one hundred persons and the wounding of at least 200 others.

General Davidoff, General Nerzoff and former Ambassador Koloueff today were identified as victims of the bombing, timed to take its toll of lives during the funeral services for General Kosla Gheorghieff, victim of an assassin Tuesday.

The wounded included Premier Tsankoff, war minister Kalkoff, the mayor of Sofia, Archbishop Stephen and General Lazaroff, commandant of the city garrison.

The infernal machine exploded just as the funeral procession reached the main doors of the cathedral. The building was almost completely ruined. The ruins of the picturesque old cathedral were the scene of wild festivity today, as relatives and friends of the missing and unidentified searched the wreckage for the victims. The dead and wounded, the accurate number of which remained undetermined, were still lying in the open square in front of the cathedral and in the aisles of the old office.

Rioting and pillaging were checked by large numbers of troops.

A government statement today said that the assassin of Professor Nocolai Mileff, who was slain last February, had been found dead on the spot where he had killed Mileff.

He left a note, the statement said, saying the executions were ordered by the Macedonians, whose chief Mileff was.

The cathedral has become a morgue. It was estimated that the greater part of the dead and wounded mostly women and children were still buried in the wreckage.

Panic broke out following the bomb explosion. The laments of the mourners, gathered in and around the cathedral during the funeral services for General Gheorghieff broke into shrieks of fear as the whole front of the cathedral fell into the huddled crowd, carrying portions of the roof and side walls.

BRAND WILL SPEND INCREASED SALARY IN HOME DISTRICT

Congressman Charles Brand, Urbana, representative of the Seventh Congressional District, has taken under advisement a suggestion that five worthy high school pupils from each of the nine counties of the district be sent on educational trips to Columbus and Washington, D. C.

Congressman Brand proposes to finance the trip with a salary increase of $2,500 he has refused to accept, saying he would appoint a trustee to take charge of that sum for use in this district.

That is but a suggestion to be made to the trustee who will be appointed, and who will be given free hand to exercise his judgment in the matter.

Congressman Brand would be in a position to obtain special favors for the sightseers if the plan is adopted and arranged while congress is in session, it is said.

NEGROES CONDUCT MURDER TRIAL IN ALL-COLORED TOWN

Boley Okla., April 17.—Some time this month Boley will have a murder trial. It probably will be the most unusual trial in American criminal history.

For Boley is an unusual town. So far as is known, it is the only city of anywhere near 5,000 population where there is not a white resident. It has three first class banks and numerous business houses.

The trial and its scenes were forecast recently in the preliminary hearing of Charles Davis, the accused man.

Davis is accused of having choked to death, with sand, a man named Brownfield. The complaint stated that Davis forced sand into Brownfield's mouth and nose until he died. Judge McRiley a negro Judge, conducted the hearing. More than a thousand negroes jammed the courtroom.

Four negro doctors testified to the cause of death before a jury consisting of four bankers, three merchants and five farmers, all negroes.

A boy who found the body was the State's chief witness supported by the city marshal and the chief of police.

There were able colored lawyers on both sides, for Davis is a prosperous farmer, and Brownfield, also was well to do.

The hearing was conducted with stern dignity. As one man the negroes rose when the Judge entered the court and remained standing until he was seated.

There was quiet throughout the hearing, broken only by the continuous weeping of the relatives of the dead man.

Davis was held, without bond, although he offered $20,000 cash bail.

HOME ECONOMICS IS SUBJECT OF CLUB TALK

The importance of knowledge of food values and the virtues of the different foods was the interesting subject of the talk of Miss Julia Emery Turner of the Household Economics Department, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, before the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club, at the K. of P. Hall, Thursday evening.

Miss Turner spoke of the first openings for women in commercial fields as applied to food. Her commendation of the present up-to-date domestic system included that of the experiment conducted by two young women students at Antioch College in a modern and old-time kitchen, arranged in the window of a Dayton department store, two years ago. The experiment showed that the housewife in the old-fashioned kitchen walked a distance equal to that between Dayton and Chicago, losing a week's time in traversing her kitchen for her work. The step-saving devices were shown in the modern kitchen.

Miss Turner spoke of the opportunities open to women as dietitians in large hospitals and other institutions. She said that the women of today were preparing themselves to be better housewives and were not looking forward to marriage as a time of ease.

Club members and their guests were served a delicious chicken menu by the women of the Pythian Sister Lodge. The tables were centered with green candles in crystal holders, placed in a yellow petal cup, made by the members of the hostess committee, and which were very effective. Easter napkins completed the appointments. Dinner-hour "stunts" included an automobile race, the members being grouped according to the names of cars given them on slips. Each group of "machines" were placed in a race to the national B. P. W. convention in Portland, Me., a song by one group to carry them a part of the distance and a song and a stunt to take them a bit farther. Subscriptions to The Independent Woman, the official organ of the club, were offered as "transportation" and several subscriptions were received in this way. Other groups sang songs as a part of the program.

Routine business was transacted after dinner, including the appointment of delegates to the state and national club conventions.

The Misses Julia Wolf and Olivia Cost are delegates to the national convention with the Misses Edith Fawcett and Clara Marshall, alternates, and the Misses Louise Slaughter and Miriam Whittington are state convention delegates with the Misses Florence McKeever and Dorothy Hester, alternates. Different officers of the club gave reports.

Miss Turner's talk was followed by the presentation of "Blood Will Tell" by several members of the club dramatic class. The Misses Allegra Hawes, Lorena Paulin, Helen Evers and Roberta Haw, took part in the clever piece which was well enacted.

STORE CLOSES DOORS; LACK OF ADVERTISING IS GIVEN AS REASON

Champaign, Ill. April 17—Withdrawal of all advertising several years ago from the Champaign Gazette is blamed as the chief contributing cause of the failure of Murdock Brothers, for 18 years a leading ladies' ready-to-wear store in this city.

This blame is assumed by E. L. Murdock in a signed letter published in the Gazette, following the voluntary closing of the doors of the concern to avert being thrown into bankruptcy.

The part of his letter touching upon his inability to hold the public's trade without using newspaper space follows:

"Another contributing cause, and perhaps the greatest contributing cause, is the fact that during four years our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, withheld all advertising in the Gazette. For two years we were out of the paper. We were without proper means of getting messages about our store into the homes of our friends and buyers. The result was they soon forgot us. We tried other forms of advertising to supplement the Gazette, but we found none that was as effective. Our business continued on the down grade."

"After two years we saw the error of staying out of the Gazette. Arrangements were made again with the Gazette to carry Murdock Bros. advertising into the homes of this community. The business began to thrive—but it was too late. Seemingly our friends had forgotten about us. The fault was ours. For too long a time we had failed to remind them about the splendid merchandise and values in our store."

COST OF LIVING CONTINUES UPWARD TREND DEPARTMENT OF LABOR SAYS

Washington, April 17—The cost of living continues to climb, wholesale prices of foodstuffs being seven and one half percent higher in March than they were a year ago, the department of labor announced today.

While some commodities averaged lower in price in March than in February, the general average was slightly higher.

Principal advances were noted in fresh foods, such as meats, butter, fruits, which were offset in part by slight declines in eggs, flour, etc.

Jobs were also less plentiful, the department of labor announced.

While employment in manufacturing industries increased one percent in March over February, it was found four percent lower than March a year ago. Based on reports from 9,000 establishments in 52 industries, covering 2,308,019 employees, the aggregate earnings of employees increased 1.8 percent while the per capita earnings increased 0.9 percent.

The fertilizer industry showed the largest employment gain, amounting to forty percent. The brick industry increased nine percent in employment while the automobile and carriage industries showed employment increases of 7.2 percent each.

There was a marked decrease in employment in the chewing and smoking tobacco industries, slaughtering and meat packing, flour confectionery, woolen goods and rubber boots and shoes. The food group lost over three percent of its employees.

MEXICO'S AGRIAN REFORM

PRESIDENT Calles of Mexico has promised that within a year every Mexican who wants land shall have land. Since most of the internal troubles which have disturbed the country for more than a decade have been chargeable to the demands of the landless for a means whereby a living might be wrested from the soil, that a half has been supplied already and the remainder is to receive allotments soon may be taken as evidence that Mexico is progressing rapidly toward stability. Agrarian reform has been the promise of all the revolutionists since the Diaz regime was unseated. Radical methods of procedure have at times been proposed but the plan on which the government is now operating is much milder than might have been expected under the circumstances. The allotments are set aside for the use of the villages in common. The village subdivides the land into the permanent possession of individual families which have the right to pass it on by inheritance but not by gift or sale, a writer in Current History points out.

Of the 15,000,000 Mexicans four-fifths are intensely poor. The average family is said to possess but one cow, one goat, and one pig or sheep (not both) and sometimes a donkey. Since some have more a great many must have less. Yet this is the class for which the government is providing land in order that they may be taught to become independent cultivators of the soil with the hope that under tutelage they will in time approach the status of the American farmer. Of course with the accumulation of property these people would be less inclined to engage in revolts. Under disorder they would have something to lose while heretofore there has been the promise of gain.

On the other side are the landlords whose land has been expropriated. They are not exactly satisfied with the process. One ground of complaint is the method of payment by bonds which have no market value. Again, portions taken destroy the value of what remains. However, the peons are in a great majority and it seems to be their inning. Unquestionably a wide distribution of the land will tend to stabilize the government provided it is not brought about in a way to incite to further turmoil. In the achievement of settled conditions which will make for prosperity in Mexico the United States has a large interest.

A RAT, NOT A HERO

IF ONE will but make a cool analysis of the career of Gerald Chapman he will discover that by stripping this criminal of the artificial glamour which has been cast about him he is not the "master mind of the underworld" nor a super-criminal, but an ordinary rat that has been fighting for its life and freedom. His heroics are only pretended at the advice of counsel who believes in the gullibility of the public, but the shadow of death now hangs over him at the age of thirty-seven.

No "master mind" should have been apprehended and convicted so many times as has Chapman nor would a super-criminal have spent so many years of his underworld career within prison walls. His criminal activities were first noted by the law when he was nineteen years of age and since that time he has spent all of the intervening eighteen years, with the exception of five years, behind the bars. His start in crime was a petty thief and he was sent to the reformatory for a year. Less than twelve months after his release he was again in prison for burglary. Two more years in jail were followed by but one of freedom. Then a ten years sentence for grand larceny and he came out of Sing Sing after seven years. He then committed minor robberies and swindles and finally took up the new occupation of bootlegging as a sideline. With a fellow convict from Sing Sing Chapman planned and executed a mail truck robbery, followed by an express company hold-up and the gang was rounded up by Federal and State officers in New York.

Chapman was sentenced to twenty-five years in 1923 and was sent to Atlanta from where he escaped but was recaptured after being wounded. He escaped from the hospital where he was recovering from his injuries and when next taken into custody he had the charge of murder added to his long list of crimes. It was committed in the course of ordinary burglary. Nothing he has ever done displayed any "master mind" or super intellect behind his miserable life's record. He simply preyed upon the public in the most ordinary way and was apprehended many times. The gallows awaits him within a few months. Who is there that would make a hero out of a rat?

THE BURDENS

If all the days were fair
And every dream came true,
There'd be no need for prayer,
Or faith to guide us through.

If trouble never came
To test us or affright,
Courage would be a name,
Success, a cheap delight.

If every day brought mirth
To mortals as they plod,
If Heaven could be on earth
There'd be no need for God.

'Tis when the storms assail
And when we're sorely tried,
When all resources fail
That God is at our side.

Through darkness and through pain
When other aid has flown
And all our strength seems vain
He makes His presence known.

And so from hurts that grieve
From anguish and despair,
Come courage to achieve
And faith to conquer care.

We rise to greater heights
Beneath the lash and rod,
Those troubled days and nights
Nearer draw us to God.

The following receipts have been sent to me in response to a reader's request for other readers' apple-pie recipes. I regret that these generous contributors did not state exact amounts rather than saying "cold water to make a firm ball" or "enough shortening to make the flour stick in a ball." But experienced cooks seldom measure! So our inexperienced Housekeeper Readers will have to do their best with them.

"A. G.'s Apple Pie:—With the finger tips, mix together two cups of bread flour, one-half teaspoon of salt and three-quarters of a cup of lard. Add enough cold water to make a firm ball, sprinkle this ball with extra flour, then toss it onto a board, and cut it into two equal halves (one half for each crust.) Roll out one of the halves for the lower crust and place it in your pan. Slice pared apples into it till the pan is full, then sprinkle generously with granulated sugar and dust with a small amount of ground nutmeg and ground cinnamon; roll out the top crust and place this over all pressing down edges with a fork. Make slits in this top crust with a knife, moisten it with a little sweet milk and bake 45 minutes in an oven which is hot for the first ten minutes but 'medium' for the remainder of the baking period.

E. C. M.'s Apple Pie: To make one pie, put two cups of bread flour in a bowl with one-half teaspoon of salt and, with the finger-tips, work in enough shortening to make the flour stick in a ball after you have it well mixed. Now add just enough cold water to make the pastry the right consistency to roll out, taking care not to get it too sticky. A good many people spoil their pie crust by getting it too wet and handling it too much. After dividing the pastry in two equal parts and rolling out one part for the under crust, fill the pastry-lined pan as follows: Put two scant tablespoons of flour in the bottom mixed with one-half cup of granulated sugar; slice your pared, cored apples upon this and then sprinkle one more tablespoon of flour and one-fourth cup of additional sugar over them. Add a little ground cinnamon. If the apples are flat-tasting, use the juice of one-half lemon with them. If apples are very sweet, use less sugar. Bake one-half hour in a medium oven."

OFF DAYS

There are some days that look 100 per cent just the minute that they open their eyes. And there are others that just peek at you from around strange corners—and you don't know which way to go.

It's like this latter on "off days." The first impulse is to frown, be careless and blame everything on the weather or somebody. But it is at such times that "sober second thoughts" should be mustered in.

Off days are as natural as the rainy day or the cold one, in contrast to the one full of sunshine and warmth. You just have to get acquainted with them as such and learn to handle them as you do a friend of many moods.

When the off day comes, do something—anything. For the most fatal thing is to do nothing or to wait for something to turn up on an off day. If you can't get into your work walk away from it. Match your ideas with a strong mind somewhere, take an hour or so into the out-of-doors, browse in a bookstore somewhere, if you love books. Literally change your clothes. Dress up in something different. Try to coax your "other I" to come out and play. But never whip yourself on off days. They come to all. It is part of Nature's way.

The off day melts away or disappears just as a rainy day does. Nothing is permanent excepting that which constructs and builds.

Take your off days for granted. Chum with them. Make them events.

Blessings often come wearing false faces. The clouds break when you least expect. Tomorrow is so fresh and free and possible with the off days behind!

WANT KRAUT STANDARD

Columbus, April 17—Sauerkraut manufacturers, whose national headquarters are at Clyde, Ohio, have been asked by federal government authorities to aid the U. S. government in fixing a standard for sauerkraut. The suggestion that a standard be determined was made by the sauerkraut manufacturers, it was stated, for the purpose of preventing the marketing of cabbage as kraut before it had reached the proper degree of fermentation.

FORMER TEACHER IS BURIED THURSDAY

Funeral services for Ezekiah R. Zartman, 71, teacher in the Greene County schools for more than sixty-six years, were held at the home of his sister, Mrs. Anna Angely, on East Xenia Avenue, Jamestown, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Joseph Bennett, pastor of the Jamestown M. E. Church. Interment was made on the family plot in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Mr. Zartman's death occurred Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, at the County Infirmary. He was taken to the home fourteen weeks ago, following a stroke of paralysis. He made his home with his sister, before his condition necessitated his being taken to the institution. He suffered a stroke of paralysis about six years ago while teaching school and since that time had been in failing health.

He had the reputation of being one of the best teachers in this section of the state. In his early days he was associated with newspaper work, having been connected with the South Charleston Sentinel for a number of years.

Since his wife and family moved to California twenty-two years ago Mr. Zartman had lived with his sister. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Angely Zartman, three sons, Wilbur, George and Francis and one daughter, Miss Ruth Zartman all of Los Angeles, Calif., and his sister, Mrs. Angely.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

It is a curious but necessary provision of Nature that the blood, besides carrying the digested nourishment and the life-giving oxygen to all portions of the body, also removes all of the waste, poisonous products from the system. And from the very nature of our physical organization, the blood is the only agent that can be employed in this dual capacity.

It must be understood, of course, that each of the organs has a circulatory system of its own. Now, impure blood is brought into the kidneys through a channel known as the renal artery. This artery subdivides, and the subdivision is carried on and on, until every portion of the kidneys is supplied with arterial blood. From the branches of the arteries the blood passes into capillaries, which are the minute channels that exist between the arteries and veins. But in the kidneys, instead of a single system there is a double system of capillaries. These capillaries exist in numerous plexuses or net-works, and before the blood can pass into the renal vein it must flow through the capillary membranes and thus on through the entire and complicated system of these minute vessels.

Now, the blood contains a surplus of water and, in solution, many waste matters, the most important of which is a substance called urea. While passing through the capillaries the blood is filtered; the surplus water and the solids that it holds in solution are absorbed through the thin membranes, and are passed on, while the blood thus purified enters the roots of the venous system that empties into the renal vein. In this manner, the blood that has been rid of its waste products is returned to the general circulation.

Not all the surplus moisture can be carried off by the kidneys. The skin has its share to do. If the skin be not active in its work of excreting surplus toxic moisture then that much more is forced upon the kidneys, and the latter organs, when overworked, become weakened and diseased.

The skin has three purposes: It protects the delicate tissues of the outer surfaces of the body; it acts as an organ of sense (touch) and it excretes moisture.

MANY AMERICAN DOLLARS FINDING WAY INTO FOREIGN INVESTMENTS

Washington, April 17.—The outflow of American dollars into foreign investment fields is proceeding at an enormous rate, it was revealed today in figures for the first three months of 1925.

In the face of unsettled political and economic conditions abroad, foreign financing for the first quarter of this year amounted to $344,000,000, according to compilations by the department of commerce.

It was officially estimated January 1, $10,000,000,000 in American money was invested abroad and on the basis of the new figures for 1925 officials estimated today the end of the year will see this total raised well above $11,000,000,000. This is all exclusive of the government's war debts.

On the other hand, foreign investments in the United States are estimated at approximately $3,000,000,000.

RECEIVE CUTS WHEN CAR HITS CULVERT

Eugene Osman, North Mechanic Street, received slight cuts about his face and Russell Sydam, Washington Street, was bruised about the face and head, when a Ford touring car owned and driven by Osman crashed headon into the abutment of a culvert two miles from Xenia on the Wilmington Pike Thursday night and overturned in a ditch.

The headlights were rendered useless when a fuse burned out, and Osman drove into the culvert before he was able to stop the car. The machine was completely wrecked and was taken to Gordon Brothers garage for repairs.

Osman was returning to Xenia at the time of the accident. He was able to walk home and had his cuts dressed by Dr. H. C. Messenger. Both Osman and Sydam were cut about the face by flying glass when the windshield of the car was smashed.

INDICT GIRL FOR ARRANGING DATES

Elyria, O., April 17.—Charged on two counts for her alleged arranging of clandestine meetings between young girls and men, Lucile Jones, 19, daughter of Rev. T. Howard Jones, former pastor of the Peoples Church at Lorain, will be arraigned in common pleas court here Saturday morning.

Indictments charging procuring and inducing in connection with her alleged sponsoring of the meetings were returned by the Lorain County Grand Jury Thursday.

A feature of the case is that the girl was apprehended as the direct result of individual investigations by her pastor father. The minister followed William Monschein, of Elyria, to an Elvira Hotel and then notified police. The resultant disclosures involved his daughter as the alleged "arranger" of the clandestine trysts.

Monschein will be one of the principal witnesses when the Jones girl is arraigned.

000 and are steadily decreasing—indicating that Europe is spending its money in expanding home industry rather than seeking foreign investment fields.

Foreign securities publicly offered for sale in this country totaled $279,000,000 for the three months, compared to $238,000,000 last year. About $41,000,000 represents refunding operations and the remainder new investments.

Private expansion of credit to foreign governments, banks and industrial corporations amounted to $65,000,000.

Interest on foreign securities held in this country will exceed a billion dollars this year, officials estimated. These investments are partially responsible for America's foreign trade which estimates place at nearly $10,000,000,000 for 1925.

Two thirds of the foreign loans so far this year, went to governmental agencies, the remainder to private corporations. Last year only one ninth of the total went to commercial and industrial establishments.

During the first quarter of 1925, European governments and corporate enterprises borrowed $139,000,000 in the United States. German industry took $65,000,000. Other large European loans went to the republic of Poland, $35,000,000; the Est railroad of France, $20,000,000 and the Republic of Finland $10,000,000.

Loans to Latin America totaled $56,000,000, a decline from last year. The Argentine government took $25,000,000; $10,000,000 went to the Cuba company and $15,000,000 to the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The Japanese loan of which $125,000,000 was floated in this country was the only Asiatic issue on the market.

Canadian loans for the first quarter were $67,000,000 compared to $36,000,000 last year, indicating that American bankers are obtaining much business which formerly went to London.

DETECTIVES MUST SERVE 18 MONTHS ON GRAFTING CHARGE

Cincinnati, April 17.—Detectives James Hayes and Fred Mullerick convicted by a jury of conspiring to violate the federal prohibition law, were each sentenced to serve 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., and fined $2,000 today by U. S. District Judge Smith Hickenlooper.

Detective Robert Kinney was sentenced to a year and a day at Fort Leavenworth and fined $1,000.

The three gave notices of appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals and if necessary will carry the case to the U. S. supreme court. They were indicted in connection with Uncle Sam's investigation of graft conditions in the Cincinnati police force.

Fifty five other policemen, detectives and agents for county liquor courts pleaded guilty to accepting graft payments to protect bootleggers in the "black belt" or negro district, but Hayes, Mullerick and Kinney entered pleas of "not guilty." They were the first to be tried. Their defense was based on the fact that witnesses for the government were bootleggers and persons of unsavory reputation. Many character witnesses were introduced by the trio to show they always had enjoyed good reputations and were known as fearless guardians of the law who had "shot it out" with bandits on several occasions.

The maximum penalty was two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Judge Hickenlooper overruled a motion for a new trial filed Friday morning and argued immediately thereafter. The trials of nine Cincinnati policemen, indicted on similar charges will begin late Friday.

Hayes, Mullerick and Kinney were recently assigned to the night detective force, after having served several years as members of the flying squad of sleuths assigned to break up the liquor traffic and to war on handbooks.

TRIAL POSTPONED FOR COMPLETION AT LATER TIME IN COURT

Unable to finish the trial of Mrs.

Mariana Snyder Markley of Yellow Springs, against the Northwestern Life Insurance Company in scheduled time, the case was discontinued by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy. Thursday afternoon and will be resumed at a later date, it is said.

Mrs. Markley, alleged in her suit that her husband changed his $4,000 life insurance policy before his death making his mother beneficiary instead of his wife.

Mrs. Lotia Markley, of Cincinnati, mother of Victor Markley, the husband of the plaintiff received the entire amount of the policy, according to the petitioner.

Evidence was introduced during the Wednesday session by the plaintiff that her husband had been cared for in the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Snyder in Yellow Springs, prior to his death. She testified he was subject to tuberculosis and in order to minimize his suffering took small quantities of morphine. She said every thing was alright between them until his mother removed him to her home in Cincinnati.

Miss Louise Snyder, her sister, testified the young wife was not allowed to communicate with her husband and that he was taken to Arizona without her knowledge. She learned of his death through the newspapers, she said.

Although originally docketed for trial by jury, Judge Gowdy ruled it was not a case for the jury and dismissed the prospective jurors at an early stage in the trial.

Attorneys H. D. Smith and Marcus Shoup represent the plaintiff with Miller and Finney and a Cincinnati attorney representing the insurance company.

ROMANCE

YOU often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

*Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you.

JUNIORS OF CENTRAL HIGH ABLY PRESENT "POLLYANNA" AS A ANNUAL CLASS OFFERING

Members of the junior class of Central High School ably presented, "Pollyanna," the "glad girl," as their class play at the school auditorium Thursday night before a large and appreciative audience.

Under the capable direction of Miss Jean B. Elwell, the well picked cast acquitted itself unusually well at the opening performance.

The scene of the "glad play" adapted by Catherine Christolm Cushman, and based on the novel by Eleanor H. Porter, is laid in a New England village. The story deals with the experiences of Pollyanna, an orphan girl, whom fate has thrust into the home of a maiden aunt.

Unwelcomed by her, the "glad girl" who sees a ray of sunshine in everything, undergoes many trials and tribulations, while managing always to find something to be glad about.

Pollyanna gains a reputation as the girl miracle worker in the village by acting the good Samaritan, and finally after straightening out the affairs of her elders, is rewarded at last by finding happiness in the heart of Jimmy, an orphan, who it is later found, is of distinguished parentage.

Barbara Little, as Pollyanna Whitfield, ably portrayed her part, and shouldering the leading role, put much of reality in her characterization of the mischievous and happy little "glad girl."

George Perrill, as John Pendleton, Esq., dubbed "King Grouch," by Pollyanna, had a sincere and matter-of-fact way, that immediately won the audience, while permitting himself to be cured of an old heart sore by Pollyanna, daughter of his former sweetheart, who tells a story in the sacred precincts of his "castle," which the King has not permitted himself to think about for twenty years.

Miss Polly Harrington, the austere and reserved maiden aunt, was well portrayed by Helen Reutinger, whose heart of stone was finally melted by Pollyanna, whose gift for inquisitiveness revived an old love affair with Dr. Chilton, Pendleton's best friend, and a flame of Polly.

Robert Currie, as Dr. Chilton, duplicated the professional air of the physician, and became the "happiest man in the world" when he found Polly had kept his picture in her locker for the past twenty years.

The entire cast was well selected, with William Wead as Jimmy Bean, Jr., an orphan at the age of twelve but with a child affection for Pollyanna that was fed until at the age of seventeen, he completely lost his heart to the "glad girl."

Robert Finlay took the role of Jimmy Bean, Sr., at the age of seventeen and the resemblance with his "double" William Wead, both in voice and manner was remarkable.

The comedy element was introduced in the first act when Jane Hayward, Elizabeth Piper and Elizabeth Stout, as Mrs. Carmeny, Miss Carroll and Mrs. Gregg, of the "Ladies Aiders," conducted a "gab fest" in the home of Polly Harrington, rehearsing family secrets and love affairs.

Josephine John, as Nancy, the talkative servant of Miss Polly, added another comic element to the performance with her keen Irish wit and gabby manner.

The part of doctor, Pendleton's man, was well taken by Robert Downing, Arnold Boxwell as the chauffeur and Mary Wilson as the nurse also ably portrayed their roles.

The performance will be repeated Friday night at the auditorium, before what is expected to be a capacity attendance judging from the advance ticket sale.

MAHARAJAH OF JODHPUR

Housed in one of the most luxurious mansions in Wimbledon, London's exclusive suburb, are the Maharajah of Jodhpur, four of his wives and a suit of thirty—and London is revelling in stories of the dusky Indian whose wealth is unbelievable. He took eight limousines and seventy polo ponies to England with him, and his wives move about only in enclosed sedan chairs, even the servants being forbidden to look at them.

LAGOON EXCAVATION STARTED AT PARK

BRADFUTE URGES OBSERVANCE OF 4TH

Summons to a nation-wide old-time Fourth of July celebration "with chicken dinners, bands and speeches," under the auspices of 1,800 county Farm Bureau units was issued in a statement Thursday by O. E. Bradfute, Xenia, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It is particularly fitting," the statement said, "the farmers should take the lead in stimulating a great national July Fourth celebration this year. It was just 150 years ago that a group of American farmers gathered at Concord Bridge and fired the first shot in the great battle for American independence."

"We are not limiting this celebration to farmers. We are asking each county farm bureau to invite the cooperation of every individual and organization within the country."

Have you ever thought of Life Insurance in this connection? Figure how many cases you find where the insured has paid in as much as the face of the contract. You'll find it almost impossible to find such a case. It is only a matter of how much of an investment return their is in a life insurance contract.

Let's take a man thirty-five years of age, his rate on an ordinary life policy is $20.00 per thousand. According to mortality figures he has less than thirty-two years in which to live. Suppose he dies the first year, the investment on his $20.00 is five thousand per cent; if he has paid two premiums twenty-five hundred percent; if he has paid four premiums it is twelve hundred per cent; five premiums, one thousand percent; ten premiums, five hundred per cent, and so on. The policy does not cost him a cent until he has paid fifty premiums or when he has reached the age of eighty-five. Call or let us call and show you more about life insurance.

Ford Air Service Inaugurated

The first real step forward in commercial aviation was made when the Maiden Dearborn, the first of Henry Ford's all-metal airplanes, hopped off from Dearborn Field, Detroit, Michigan, laden with a thousand pounds of freight, for Chicago. The Maiden Dearborn was piloted by Edward G. Marmion, with Harry Russell as mechanic. The plane is the first of a projected fleet of all-metal ships which will maintain a regular air service between Chicago and Detroit. Ford has announced that as soon as the Chicago-Detroit service is in full swing three new services would be started, one to operate to St. Louis, another to Iron Mountain, Mich., and the third to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn. Photo shows Ford placing a package aboard the plane just before it hopped off on its initial flight from Detroit.

HOLD MAN IN PROBE OF MORRISON CASE

Akron, Ohio, April 17—George Warren, 46, colored of Cleveland was to be quizzed today by Sheriff Chris Weaver in connection with the murder last Friday of John Morrison, at Northfield who was shot as he slept in bed, while his family was absent from the house.

Only a charge of suspicion has been made against Warren who was arrested by Barney Ullum, deputy sheriff, because the prisoner is said to have been well acquainted with Morrison and an intimate associate at a time when Morrison managed an estate at Northfield for a Cleveland attorney. After the house on this property burned, Morrison was dismissed and sought other employment. The sheriff has a different theory regarding the murder, one which other officials, concurred in at first but later abandoned. Weaver does not believe Warren will be implicated and is still pursuing his own line of investigation, which involves a woman and possibly a man.

WIFE BEATERS TO GET SAME MEDICINE

Baltimore, April 17—Wife-beaters who appear before Judge Henry Duffy, in Criminal Court here, in future will receive more than tongue-lashing for sentence—they will receive a whipping. The Judge made known his intention after hearing the case of Mrs. Edda Simmons against her husband, Robert.

Mrs. Simmons testified her husband beat and kicked her because she didn't give him enough money out of her pay envelope. Judge Duffy gave Simmons six months in the House of Correction.

"The next 'wife-beater' who comes before me," said the Judge "will be surprised to learn I have revived the use of the whipping post in Maryland."

The Judge will find it easy to make good his threat, as the official whipping post, long regarded as a relic of other days still stands in the yard at City Jail, ready for the next victim to receive the proverbial "thirty lashes."

WILL GIVE LECTURE AT CHURCH SUNDAY

The Rev. James P. Lytle, of the First U. P. Church, has just received a new illustrated lecture from Pittsburgh, which he will give at the evening service, Sunday. It is of special interest in that it consists for the greater part of recent camera and snapshot views of work done through the New World Movement contributions.

The lecture is to be used in the U. P. Churches of XeniaPresbytery and was exhibited by the Rev. Mr. Lytle, at the meeting in Springfield, Monday night. The views are intended and arranged to give information up to date.

ICELAND WILL BAR FOREIGN FISHERS

Reykjavik, Iceland, April 17—Drastic changes in Government policy are expected from the present session of the Icelandic parliament. The Conservative Party has control of the Government, but with only a slight majority, and the opposition from the Farmers' Party is most active. The Socialist Party is also active and insists upon changes in the present policy.

Stiffening of the laws for the protection of the Icelandic fishing industry is expected. It is anticipated that the Parliament will enact a law to prevent foreign trawlers having stations in Iceland, and will prevent citizens of Iceland from acting as "dummy owners" for foreign fishing corporations.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

ONE BORN EVERY DAY

Folks, meet Professor Bunkum! Palmist! He's read all the crowned heads of Europe and the blockheads of America. Tells your past-reveals your future. Remarkable! Well, I guess.

You enter his office and write your name and date of birth on a slip of paper. The professor places the slip of paper in an envelope, seals the envelope and burns it before your eyes. You go into an adjoining room for a few seconds to think of the questions you are going to ask.

"Mrs. Agnes Smith, take this chair," he tells you when you are called back from the room. You marvel at his powers at finding out your name and open wide your eyes when he tells you the date of your birth. Of course you don't know that there was a small slit in the bottom of the envelope, that the slip containing your name and date of birth dropped into his coat sleeve and that only the envelope was burned. While you were in the next room he read the slip.

"Is Harry true to me?"

Well, now you have asked something. Give him seven hairs from the top of your head and a dollar extra and he will tell you on the following Tuesday. A scheme to get an extra dollar.

At the World's Fair in St. Louis a palmist told a Florida man he had some oil stocks at home which would some day bring him a fortune if he bought a charm for $50. He bought the charm and the oil stocks did bring the fortune. A few years later he lost the charm. He saw another palmist and told him his story. He wanted the charm replaced. The palmist charged him $500, which he gladly paid. The charm was a five cent drug dropped in cotton. The buyer believed it was "imported from the river Jordan, 50 yards from where Christ was crucified." Bunkum was wrong. There are several born every minute.

I talked with the professor a short time ago. He told of being in several Ohio cities and of how he fleeced the public. He is now selling patent medicine. And people are falling for his dope. The same as they did for his palmistry.

The Gazette endeavors to print only truthful advertising and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertisements not conforming to the highest standards of honesty.

I know just how little my fortune is and don't care for any palm reader to tell me about it. I am reminded of it often enough now.

Fortunes are made through advertising. Be sure to choose the right kind of advertising and the right medium. We'd like to talk over Gazette classified advertising with you.

CITY EXAMINERS TO HOLD EXAMINATION FOR TEACHERS MAY 2

The Xenia City Board of School examiners will hold a regular meeting for the examination of teachers Saturday, May 2 in the superintendent's office at Central High School beginning at 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time. The examination fee is fifty cents. Members of the board are, Anna B. Morrow, president, Harper C. Pendry, vice president and C. A. Waltz, clerk.

The following are the rules and regulations pertaining to the entrance to and conditions of the examination:

This year the new law regarding professional training comes into full effect and no elementary teacher who has had less than eight years of experience prior to 1920 and no high school or special teacher with less than five years of high school or special experience prior to 1920 may be admitted to examination with less than fifteen semester hours (one half year in the law) of professional credit.

Elementary and special teachers must have a total credit of at least thirty semester hours and high school teachers, at least sixty semester hours. Those holding renewable certificates may renew these certificates by taking the examination. If unable to secure sufficient additional credit to renew them without examination. No one-year certificate secured by examination is renewable. All one-year and the first three-year special and high school certificates must be obtained by examination. Any three-year certificate is renewable.

Any high school teacher possessing a standard degree and any special teacher possessing sixty semester hours of training may secure a renewal of any three-year certificate without examination. If he has fifteen semester hours of professional credit.

Any elementary teacher possessing forty-eight semester hours of normal training, evaluated as fifty-four weeks, may secure a renewal of a renewable certificate without examination. It will be remembered, of course, that local boards of examiners may require examination in Principles of Teaching and in other subjects if desirable, for the renewal of any certificate, and also that no fee may be charged unless an examination of some kind is given.

All persons desiring to take the examination for a certificate or renewal must present official evaluations of their credits from the state department. Since January 1, 1924 the qualifications for admission to city examinations have been the same as for admission to county examinations. Of course, all that has been said herein regarding city examinations applies as well to those held in exempted village districts.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XVIII. Michael forgot to tell Sally Warbe that he was going out for dinner until he came home from the office and the hurt surprise his announcement occasioned implied that she had made unusual preparations for this meal. The idea of inviting Lilah here for dinner flitted through his mind, but was instantly discarded. No, she probably would not like to come alone, and he did not wish anyone else to be present. Besides, he had a table reserved at the Moscow, a fashionable cafe opened a few evenings previously, which Lilah naturally would be interesting in seeing.

Of course, he dressed with unusual care. He had visited his favorite barber shop before coming home, and his hair and his face and his nails had never looked better. So that when he faced Sally in the hallway as he descended from his room she grinned. "You're either going to propose or be married."

"I wish you'd hush up about marriage, Sally; you'll drive me to it."

She answered his laugh with a broader grin, and watched him depart just a little sadly. He seemed to be a different Michael now. And the lovely dinner she had planned for him—well, no use to cry over spilled milk. Still—

She slowly returned to the dining room, and rang for the maid to clear the table.

Lilah, too, appeared to have given unusual care to her appearance this evening. Her hair floated in a wavy mazel, and around it was a bandeau of the same color as her gown, a thrilling creation in green, with stockings and slippers to match. She wore a diamond breast pin, and a ring set with a small emerald, her birthstone, and no other jewelry.

Only a few women among many can wear green and find it becoming; and Lilah Pharely was one of them.

She seemed more beautiful than ever before as Michael glanced furtively at her as they ploughed through traffic, her eyes blinking in the wind which was tossing about little wisps of her uncovered hair.

"I'll close the window, if you like," he suggested, leaning toward her door of the automobile. "No, no. I like the breeze. I like to dash into it. Did you ever stand on a high rock while the wind was blowing fiercely into your face? It exalts me, and gives me a glorified feeling. I'm crazy about flying." Her eyes had a far-away look.

"Have you done much flying?" "Only once or twice," she responded with interest. "I flew from London to Paris last summer."

"Oh! How long were you in the air?"

"I don't know," she said. "But I think I am—I'm a woman."

This was spoken as they arrived at the Moscow cafe. Nothing else was said until they were at their table. Lilah, as if by design, kept him from getting back to this vein by keeping the conversation in other channels. And that night, when he took her home flushed with the excitement of dancing until the closing hour, she hurriedly bid him goodnight, leaving him standing on the steps gazing disappointedly after her.

"Darn it! I lost my opportunity," he told himself, turning away.

TAX RETURNS ARE COMING IN SLOWLY

Personal property tax returns are being made slowly during the first few days of the tax listing period according to County Auditor R. O. Wead. Approximately 8,500 returns must be made in the county by May 1 to receive the $100 exemption, according to an estimate based on receipts of the preceding year.

Returns are always made scatteringly during the first few days, according to Auditor Wead, who reminds property owners that there are but twelve remaining days to fill out the blanks.

It is also pointed out that those making returns must first be sworn by a notary or assessor. The oath is attached to the blank.

PLAN SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY BEFORE WHEELER CASE JURY

Un-named Attorney to Testify Against Senator Prosecutor Says

Great Falls, Mont., April 17.—Promising testimony of sensational character, the prosecution pressed forward rapidly today in its efforts to prove to a jury in federal court here that Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, violated his oath of office, by accepting a fee to represent a client before the interior department. As a result of the declaration of John L. Slattery, U. S. attorney, that an unnamed Washington D. C. lawyer would take the stand within a few days and testify that Wheeler proposed an agreement through the lawyer whereby both could make millions out of Montana oil lands obtained through interior department permits, the atmosphere of the court room was surcharged with high explosives at the second day of the trial.
Slattery steadfastly refused today to name the attorney, saying: "I won't divulge his name because I don't want to tip off the defense. The lawyer will be here. Wheeler knows him."
Wheeler denounced Slattery's statement as "ridiculous."
"It's all news to me," said Wheeler.

The plan by which "millions" were to be made, according to Slattery was through an agreement by which the mysterious lawyer was to handle oil permits of Gordon Campbell, Montana oil man, before the department.
Wheeler is being tried for representing Campbell. After permits had been obtained, Slattery said, Wheeler proposed that he and the lawyer "should go halves" in returns from the oil lands. Wheeler explained, said Slattery, that being a senator he could not appear before the department because of a prohibiting federal statute.
"The plan would have been worth millions to them," said Slattery.
Speculation ran rampant today as to the lawyer to whom Slattery referred. Three Washington attorneys have been called as witnesses. Two, A. H. Furr and Peter Q. Nyce, were summoned by the government; one, William S. Feely, by the defense.
Furr, formerly secretary to Edwin S. Booth, formerly solicitor of the interior, said today he knew nothing whatever about any million dollar agreement, and would say so on the stand. According to testimony before Borah committee that investigated the present indictment, Furr attended a conference between Booth, Wheeler, Nyce and Campbell in the department.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE NEW EVIDENCE LEARNED

Indicted Man Expected To Furnish New Information in Haynes Scandal

Cleveland, O., April 17.—A special federal grand jury will march into the maze of new developments in the Haynes distillery permit scandal by a new road, built upon information gleaned since the initial investigation several weeks ago, when it convenes Wednesday.
Peter J. Higgins, Youngstown millionaire broker and former liquor dealer and one of those under indictment for conspiracy among the ten indicted during the first probe, will testify before the jury Wednesday. His evidence is expected to be sensational and to involve a prominent Cleveland broker among others of prominence.
Subpoenas were issued for Pat J. Scanlon, Edward J. Scanlon, Frank J. Eckles and Carl Fleps, all of whom were among the first ten indicted. They all are from Youngstown.
The investigation centers on how 22,000 gallons of whiskey was shipped on federal permits from the Haynes distillery at Troy, Ohio, to the Arm and Drug and Candy Company of Cleveland and its subsequent diversion to bootleg trade.

CREW BRINGS STOGIE TO MOORINGS AFTER THRILLING FLIGHT

Vessel Blown Away Is Safely Piloted on Its Return Trip

Pulham, Eng., April 17.—Safe at home after her twenty nine hour battle with gales over the North sea, the dirigible R-33 was brought to her mooring mast here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

As the R-33 sailed over the aerodrome, a crowd of several hundred persons let out a tremendous roar of welcome. The ship's nose was badly flattened and there was a huge hole in its port side, from which canvas flapped in the wind.

The two heavy artillery wheels which the ship pulled when it broke loose yesterday were still attached. The fact that the big bag was punctured, made the trip a remarkable experience and its safe return miraculous achievement, aerodrome officers declared.

Lieutenant Booth wirelessed he thought there was not much damage done to the R-33, while on the return trip.

The praise of the air ministry went forward by radio to greet the returning air adventurers.

"Your efforts are splendid and redound to the credit of you all," Air Marshal General Salmond wirelessed the ship.

Aviation authorities here were greatly pleased with the remarkable judgment shown by Lieutenant Booth, who is only 30, but is considered to have handled the R-33 during her great struggle like a veteran air master.

Another of the crew receiving much compliments was Spencer Koely, 20 year old Irish boy, a junior wireless operator, who was the only radio expert aboard the runaway airship. He kept the dirigible in constant communication with the anxious shore stations since her escape more than twenty-four hours ago.

STEPHENSON HOUSE ATTACKED BY FIRE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN

Believe Attempt Made To Blow Up Home Of Former Dragon Of Klan

Indianapolis, Ind., April 17.—Flames, believed to have been of incendiary origin, early today swept through the palatial home of David C. Stephenson, ex-grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, who is under indictment on charges of criminally attacking Miss Madge Oberholzer, 28.

Stephenson was not at home when the fire occurred.

Neighbors told authorities the flames shot high into the air at the Stephenson residence following an explosion.

Firemen found a quantity of kerosene and gasoline near the house. Inside, all gas jets were found open.

Miss Oberholzer died from the effects of the poison she drank after the attack with which the former klan leader was charged.

Stephenson deserted the house several days ago following the filing of a suit against the former klan leader by a woman in Oklahoma who represented herself as his former wife.

Several months ago, Stephenson's yacht was dynamited at Toledo, but he was not hurt.

Fearing further attempts to destroy the house, Stephenson appealed to police to station a guard at the entrance. Four patrolmen were detailed to this duty.

The property loss by the fire was estimated at $1500.

WOULD CHANGE VOTE ON APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, April 17.—Possibility of reconsideration of the vote by which the senate rejected Governor Donahy's appointment of Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, as a member of the state utilities commission, was being considered today.

Senator Will I. Comings, Lorain, told International News Service today he would change his vote and vote for confirmation if the matter was again brought up. He said he would also move for reconsideration if backers of the appointment thought it advisable.

Comings said, however, that he did not consider confirmation possible because of the fact that at least three senators were ready to change their votes and vote against confirmation if the question was revived.

Hungry All The Time? Here's Answer

LECTURER WILL TELL WHAT FOODS "STICK TO RIBS"

How often is heard the remark, "I eat three good meals a day and yet I'm hungry all the time." How few people know this is because they are not eating "satisfying" foods, "eats" which "stick to the ribs?"

This is a problem to which Mrs. Mary Brown-Lewers, the cookery expert who will lecture and give cookery lessons at the Gazette and Republican Cooking School at McKinley Auditorium next week, has given very serious thought.

Not alone in her domestic science work, but in her hospital training, and later in actual hospital experience, she has worked out the problem of feeding the hungry child, the business woman, the housekeeping woman, the man who does manual labor, as well as the office man.

In her lecture, "Hungry All The Time," which is one of the four to be presented at her school here next week, she will, out of a thoroughly scientific background of knowledge and experience, give some very practical and easily followed suggestions for troubled mothers and wives along this particular line of feeding the family.

ALL CLASSES INTERESTED
Every type of woman will find something of interest in Mrs. Brown-Lewers talks and cookery lessons. The newly-wed, who has had no training for the big job she has assumed, will get much help from the talks on proper feeding, on economical and wise buying; the experienced housewife will get many new ideas and some worthwhile recipes; the club woman and the domestic science teacher, nurse and dietitian, all will find food for thought, and plans for work, in this lecture and cookery course.

REPUBLICAN FORCES LAUNCH MOVE TO PASS PARTY BILLS OVER VETO

Taft Tells Colleagues to Pick Up Donahy's Challenge—Brown Gas Tax First To Be Passed Over Governor's Head

Columbus, April 17.—Voting twenty-one to fourteen the senate this afternoon passed the Buchanan bill requiring Bible reading in the public schools. The bill goes back to the house for concurrence in senate's action in amending title by adding name of Senator Clark, Champaign County.

Columbus, O., April 17.—Republican forces in the legislature today began their counter attacks against Governor Donahy and his wrecking crew.

Representative Robert A. Taft, Hamilton, Republican house floor leader, leading the attack, told members of the house as they prepared to pass thirty-seven program bills over the governor's veto, that they should take up the executive challenge and go before the people on their record.

The house at once passed the Brown gasoline tax bill over the governor's veto by a vote of 98 to 20.

Taft attacked Governor Donahy for listening to his unofficial advisers in killing legislation and assailed the methods they had employed in study of legislation.

"While the constitution gives the governor the right to veto legislation, it is not too much to say that the method pursued in this case is a gross abuse of the constitutional power," Taft asserted.

"That power is given to the governor for use in important and extraordinary cases to correct some real defect or mistaken policy in legislation. It is not intended that through a mere whim he should nullify the action of the representatives elected by the people."

"By his action, the governor has forfeited any right to speak with the authority with which a governor of Ohio should speak. Governor Donahy's whole interest is devoted to 'destructive criticism,' Taft charged. "He has apparently no ability to see any merit in a bill, or to see the necessity for solving any problem. He has failed to work out any problem himself."

New York, April 17.—Babe Ruth, baseball's most noted character, underwent a successful operation today for intestinal abscesses.

Ruth was resting easily, following the operation and his condition was entirely satisfactory, it was announced.

Ruth was on the operating table for upward of twenty minutes and a general anesthetic was administered, the hospital authorities stated.

New York, April 17.—Babe Ruth will go under the knife at St. Vincent's Hospital today for what is termed a "minor operation" and the feeling is fast gaining strength that baseball's greatest attraction is much sicker than reports say. Ruth will be operated upon for intestinal abscesses, according to Doctors King and Stewart, who have added that the ordeal will be painful, but not at all serious.

Ruth will now be lost to the team for at least a month, a fact with which officials of the Yanks were not familiar as late as twenty-four hours ago. They said then that the slugger was on the mend and hoped to have him with the team when it goes on the road next Tuesday, their optimism being fostered by announcement from the sickroom that Ruth had almost recovered from his combined attack of influenza and indigestion.

Marshfield, Oregon, April 17.—An entire family was burned to death early today when flames swept their apartment.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hopps, and children, Vernon, 17; Herman 10; and Ruth 13.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR IMPLICATION WITH LIST OF BURGLARIES

Sheriff Believes Jeffries Brothers Members Of Gang—Recovers Stolen Goods

With the arrest of two men, and a search being conducted for four other Springfield men, Xenia and Springfield authorities believe that a series of baffling burglaries both in Greene County and Springfield have been partially cleared up.

Orville Jeffries, 24, Cedarville, colored, and his cousin William Jeffries, of Cedarville, are being held in the County Jail pending their probable arraignment either Friday or Saturday in Probate Court on a charge of perpetrating recent robberies in Bowersville, Cedarville and Jamestown. No charge has yet been placed against them.

They are believed to have been connected with the robbing of the Reeves and Bryant clothing store in Jamestown Wednesday night, when between $1,000 and $1,500 worth of merchandise was stolen. Efforts will also be made to connect the pair with the burglary of the M. C. Nagley grocery store and the Ralph Wolford garage in Cedarville and the theft of an automobile owned by Harry Hamman, Cedarville, all made the same night.

Authorities also have reason to think the same gang, of which the two men deny being members, robbed the Spencer poolroom in Cedarville, the Ross Store Company, in Bowersville and the Rigio pool room in Cedarville recently.

Beliefs are substantiated by the fact that a quantity of men's furnishings, such as ties, socks, handkerchiefs, shirts, caps, as well as numerous packages of cigarettes, and canned goods was found when a search was made of Orville Jeffries' home in Cedarville. A black jack was taken from him.

Sheriff Morris Sharp assisted by Deputy Marshal Calvin Ewry, of Cedarville and Springfield police, arrested the elder Jeffries at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances, on Butcher Street in Springfield Thursday.

William Jeffries, his cousin, was arrested Friday, officers finding several caps when he was arrested. A blackjack and burglar tools were found in Orville Jeffries' auto when he was arrested. Victimized merchants have identified part of the property recovered as theirs.

Both men deny perpetrating the series of robberies, but conflicting stories told by Orville Jeffries when questioned, will lead to an intensive investigation, according to Sheriff Sharp.

Springfield authorities are making an effort to connect the pair with a robbery in Springfield. The Hamman auto was found abandoned by Clark County officials who were driving to Cedarville early Thursday morning to trace a robbery in Springfield.

BETWEEN THIRTY AND ONE HUNDRED KILLED WHILE 200 INJURED

Blast Occurs During Funeral Service—Many Arrests Made

Sofia, April 17.—One hundred and forty persons, including six generals, was the death toll compiled today of the bomb explosion, which wrecked the Sveti Kral cathedral yesterday during the funeral of the assassinated General Kosla Gheorghieff.

The director of prisons was assassinated in the streets this afternoon and there were other disorders. Martial law has been proclaimed countrywide.

The dead in the cathedral disaster includes thirty army officers, ten women and many children.

Sofia, April 17.—Military rule was established today in Bulgaria as a result of the communal bomb outrage at the Sveti Kral cathedral. A number of arrests were made in the effort to round up the radicals responsible for the deaths of from thirty to one hundred persons and the wounding of at least 200 others.

General Davidoff, General Nerzoff and former Ambassador Kolougeff today were identified as victims of the bombing, timed to take its toll of lives during the funeral services for General Kosla Gheorghieff, victim of an assassin Tuesday.

The wounded included Premier Tsankoff, war minister Kalkoff, the mayor of Sofia, Archbishop Stephan and General Lazaroff, commandant of the city garrison.

The internal machine exploded just as the funeral procession reached the main doors of the cathedral. The building was almost completely ruined. The ruins of the picturesque old cathedral were the scene of wild frenzy today, as relatives and friends of the missing and unidentified searched the wreckage for the victims. The dead and wounded, the accurate number of which remained undetermined, were still lying in the open square in front of the cathedral and in the aisles of the old office.

Rioting and pillaging were checked by large numbers of troops.

A government statement today said that the assassin of Professor Neocola Mileff, who was slain last February, had been found dead on the spot where he had killed Mileff.

He left a note, the statement said, saying the executions were ordered by the Macedonians, whose chief Mileff was.

The cathedral has become a morgue. It was estimated that the greater part of the dead and wounded mostly women and children were still buried in the wreckage.

Panic broke out following the bomb explosion. The lamentations of the mourners gathered in and around the cathedral during the funeral services for General Gheorghieff broke into shrieks of fear as the whole front of the cathedral fell into the huddled crowd, carrying portions of the roof and side walls.

Senate action in rejecting the four major appointments to the utilities tax and civil service commissions is final.

Governor Donahy will make no new appointments and will have no comment to make at present on the action of the senate, Mackstroth said.

BRAND WILL SPEND INCREASED SALARY IN HOME DISTRICT

Congressman Charles Brand, Urbana, representative of the Seventh Congressional District, has taken under advisement a suggestion that five worthy high school pupils from each of the nine counties of the district be sent on educational trips to Columbus and Washington, D. C.

Congressman Brand proposes to finance the trip with a salary increase of $2,500 he has refused to accept saying he would appoint a trustee to take charge of that sum for use in his district.

That is but a suggestion to be made to the trustee who will be appointed, and who will be given free hand to exercise his judgment in the matter.

NEGROES CONDUCT MURDER TRIAL IN ALL-COLORED TOWN

Boley Okla., April 17.—Some time this month Boley will have a murder trial. It probably will be the most unusual trial in American criminal history.

For Boley is an unusual town. So far as is known, it is the only city of anywhere near 5,000 population where there is not a white resident. It has three first class banks and numerous business houses.

The trial and its scenes were forecast recently in the preliminary hearing of Charles Davis, the accused man.

Davis is accused of having choked to death, with sand, a man named Brownfield. The complaint stated that Davis forced sand into Brownfield's mouth and nose until he died. Judge McKiley a negro judge, conducted the hearing. More than a thousand negroes jammed the courtroom.

Four negro doctors testified to the cause of death before a jury consisting of four bankers, three merchants and five farmers, all negroes.

A boy who found the body was the State's chief witness supported by the city marshal and the chief of police.

There were able colored lawyers on both sides, for Davis is a prosperous farmer, and Brownfield, also was well to do.

The hearing was conducted with stern dignity. As one man the negroes rose when the Judge entered the court and remained standing until he was seated.

There was quiet throughout the hearing, broken only by the continuous weeping of the relatives of the dead man.

Davis was held, without bond, although he offered $20,000 cash bail.

HOME ECONOMICS IS SUBJECT OF CLUB TALK

The importance of knowledge of food values and the virtues of the different foods was the interesting subject of the talk of Miss Julia Emery Turner of the Household Economics Department, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, before the Xenia Club, Tuesday evening.

Miss Turner spoke of the first openings for women in commercial fields as applied to food. Her commendation of the present up-to-date domestic system included that of the experiment conducted by two young women students at Antioch College in a modern and old-time kitchen, arranged in the window of a Dayton department store, two years ago. The experiment showed that the housewife in the old-fashioned kitchen walked a distance equal to that between Dayton and Chicago, losing a week's time in traversing her kitchen for her work. The step-saving devices were shown in the modern kitchen.

Miss Turner spoke of the opportunities open to women as dietitians in large hospitals and other institutions. She said that the women of today were preparing themselves to be better housewives and were not looking forward to marriage as a time of ease.

Club members and their guests were served a delicious chicken menu by the women of the Pythian Sister Lodge. The tables were centered with green candles in crystal holders, placed in a yellow petal cup, made by the members of the hostesses' committee, and which were very effective. Easter napkins completed the appointments. Dinner-hour "stunts" included an automobile race, the members being grouped according to the names of cars given them on slips. Each group of "machines" were placed in a race to the national B. P. W. convention in Portland, Me., a song by one group to carry them a part of the distance and a song and a stunt to take them a bit farther. Subscriptions to The Independent Woman, the official organ of the club, were offered as "transportation" and several subscriptions were received in this way. Other groups sang songs as a part of the program.

Routine business was transacted after dinner, including the appointment of delegates to the state and national club conventions.

The Misses Julia Wolf and Olivia Cost are delegates to the national convention with the Misses Edith Favett and Clara Marshall, alternates, and the Misses Louise Hester and Miriam Whittington are state convention delegates with the Misses Florence McKeever and Dorothy Hester, alternates. Different officers of the club gave reports.

Miss Turner's talk was followed by the presentation of "Blood Will Tell" by several members of the club dramatic class. The Misses Allegra Haws, Lorena Paulin, Helen Evers and Roberta Haw took part in the clever piece which was well enacted.

STORE CLOSING DOORS; LACK OF ADVERTISING IS GIVEN AS REASON

Champaign, Ill. April 17—Withdrawal of all advertising several years ago from the Champaign Gazette is blamed as the chief contributing cause of the failure of Murdock Brothers, for 13 years a leading ladies' ready-to-wear store in this city.

This blame is assumed by E. L. Murdock in a signed letter published in the Gazette, following the voluntary closing of the doors of the concern to avert being thrown into bankruptcy.

The part of his letter touching upon his inability to hold the public's trade without using newspaper space follows:

"Another contributing cause, and perhaps the greatest contributing cause, is the fact that during four years our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, withheld all advertising in the Gazette. For two years we were out of the paper. We were without proper means of getting messages about our store into the homes of our friends and buyers. The result was they soon forgot us. We tried other forms of advertising to supplement the Gazette, but we found none that was as effective. Our business continued on the down grade.

"After two years we saw the error of staying out of the Gazette. Arrangements were made again with the Gazette to carry Murdock Bros. advertising into the homes of this community. The business began to thrive—but it was too late. Seemingly our friends had forgotten about us. The fault was ours. For too long a time we had failed to remind them about the splendid merchandise and values in our store."

JAPAN BIRTH RATE HIGHEST IN WORLD

Tokyo, April 17.—Japan has the highest birth rate of any nation in which vital statistics are kept. It also has the highest death rate.

Figures for 1923, the latest to be tabulated show that there were 2,084,091 births in Japan during that year, while there were 1,359,729 deaths, an increase in population of 733,362. On a percentage basis this indicates an annual population increase of 1.2, or at the rate of 12 for each 1,000 residents.

The Japanese birth rate in 1922 was 34.94 in 1,000. The next highest rate in any recorded country was Portugal, with 32.9. The Japanese death rate for that year was 23.73 to 1,000—higher than that of any other nation.

Marriages totaling 516,230 were solemnized in Japan during 1923, while there were 51,556 divorces. Figures show that Japan has a divorce rate of 0.83 for every 1,000 marriages.

MEXICO'S AGRIAN REFORM

PRESIDENT Calles of Mexico has promised that within a year every Mexican who wants land shall have land. Since most of the internal troubles which have disturbed the country for more than a decade have been chargeable to the demands of the landless for a means whereby a living might be wrested from the soil, that a half has been supplied already and the remainder is to receive allotments soon may be taken as evidence that Mexico is progressing rapidly toward stability. Agrarian reform has been the promise of all the revolutionists since the Diaz regime was unseated. Radical methods of procedure have at times been proposed but the plan on which the government is now operating is much milder than might have been expected under the circumstances. The allotments are set aside for the use of the villages in common. The village subdivides the land into the permanent possession of individual families which have the right to pass it on by inheritance but not by gift or sale, a writer in Current History points out.

Of the 15,000,000 Mexicans four-fifths are intensely poor. The average family is said to possess but one cow, one goat, and one pig or sheep (not both) and sometimes a donkey. Since some have more a great many must have less. Yet this is the class for which the government is providing land in order that they may be taught to become independent cultivators of the soil with the hope that under tutelage they will in time approach the status of the American farmer. Of course with the accumulation of property, these people would be less inclined to engage in revolts. Under disorder they would have something to lose while heretofore there has been the promise of gain.

On the other side are the landlords whose land has been expropriated. They are not exactly satisfied with the process. One ground of complaint is the method of payment by bonds which have no market value. Again, portions taken destroy the value of what remains. However, the peons are in a great majority and it seems to be their inning. Unquestionably a wide distribution of the land will tend to stabilize the government provided it is not brought about in a way to incite to further turmoil. In the achievement of settled conditions which will make for prosperity in Mexico the United States has a large interest.

A RAT, NOT A HERO

IF ONE will but make a cool analysis of the career of Gerald Chapman he will discover that by stripping this criminal of the artificial glamour which has been cast about him he is not the "master mind of the underworld" nor a super-criminal, but an ordinary rat that has been fighting for its life and freedom. His heroics are only pretended at the advice of counsel who believes in the gullibility of the public, but the shadow of death now hangs over him at the age of thirty-seven.

No "master mind" should have been apprehended and convicted so many times as has Chapman nor would a super-criminal have spent so many years of his underworld career within prison walls. His criminal activities were first noted by the law when he was nineteen years of age and since that time he has spent all of the intervening eighteen years, with the exception of five years, behind the bars. His start in crime was a petty thief and he was sent to the reformatory for a year. Less than twelve months after his release he was again in prison for burglary. Two more years in jail were followed by but one of freedom. Then a ten years sentence for grand larceny and he came out of Sing Sing after seven years. He then committed minor robberies and swindles and finally took up the new occupation of bootlegging as a sideline. With a fellow convict from Sing Sing Chapman planned and executed a mail truck robbery, followed by an express company hold-up and the gang was rounded up by Federal and State officers in New York.

Chapman was sentenced to twenty-five years in 1923 and was sent to Atlanta from where he escaped but was recaptured after being wounded. He escaped from the hospital where he was recovering from his injuries and when next taken into custody he had the charge of murder added to his long list of crimes. It was committed in the course of ordinary burglary. Nothing he has ever done displayed any "master mind" or super intellect behind his miserable life's record. He simply preyed upon the public in the most ordinary way and was apprehended many times. The gallows awaits him within a few months. Who is there that would make a hero out of a rat?

THE BURDENS

If all the days were fair
And every dream came true,
There'd be no need for prayer,
Or faith to guide us through.

If trouble never came
To test us or affright,
Courage would be a name,
Success, a cheap delight.

If every day brought mirth
To mortals as they died,
If Heaven could be on earth,
There'd be no need for God.

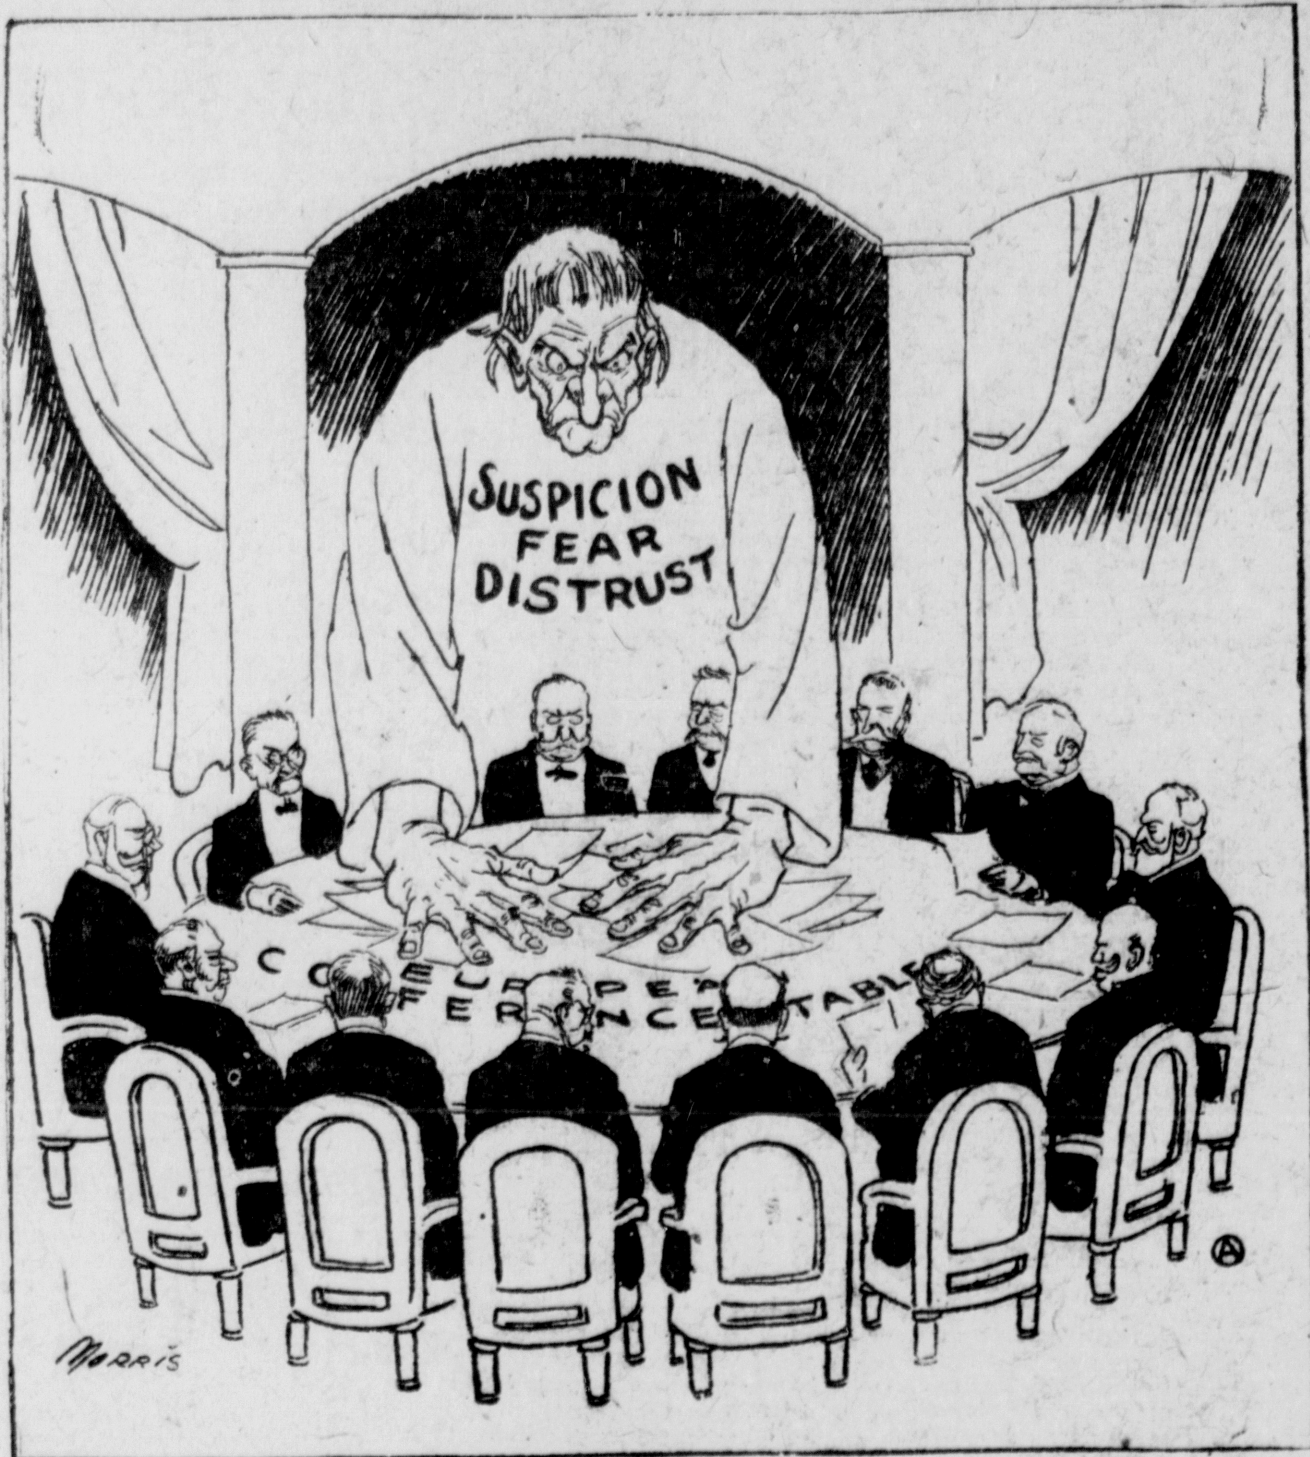

'Tis when the storms assail
And when we're sorely tried,
When all resources fail
That God is at our side.

Through darkness and through pain
When other aid has flown
And all our strength seems vain
He makes His presence known.

And so from hurts that grieve
From anguish and despair,
Come courage to achieve
And faith to conquer care.

We rise to greater heights
Beneath the lash and rod,
Those troubled days and nights
Nearer draw us to God.

The following receipts have been sent to me in response to a reader's request for other readers' apple-pie recipes. I regret that these generous contributors did not state exact amounts rather than saying "cold water to make a firm ball" or "enough shortening to make the flour stick in a ball." But experienced cooks seldom measure! So our inexperienced Housekeeper Readers will have to do their best with them.

"A. G.'s Apple Pie:—With the finger tips, mix together two cups of bread flour, one-half teaspoon of salt and three-quarters of a cup of lard. Add enough cold water to make a firm ball, sprinkle this ball with extra flour, then toss it onto a board, and cut it into two equal halves (one half for each crust.) Roll out one of the halves for the lower crust and place it in your pan. Slice pared apples into it till the pan is full, then sprinkle generously with granulated sugar and dust with a small amount of ground nutmeg and ground cinnamon; roll out the top crust and place this over all pressing down edges with a fork. Make slits in this top crust with a knife, moisten it with a little sweet milk and bake 45 minutes in an oven which is hot for the first ten minutes but 'medium' for the remainder of the baking period.

E. C. M.'s Apple Pie: To make one pie, put two cups of bread flour in a bowl with one-half teaspoon of salt and, with the finger-tips, work in enough shortening to make the flour stick in a ball after you have it well mixed. Now add just enough cold water to make the pastry the right consistency to roll out, taking care not to get it too sticky. A good many people spoil their pie crust by getting it too wet and handling it too much. After dividing the pastry in two equal parts and rolling out one part for the under crust, fill the pastry-lined pan as follows: Put two scant tablespoons of flour in the bottom mixed with one-half cup of granulated sugar; slice your pared, cored apples upon this and then sprinkle one more tablespoon of flour and one-fourth cup of additional sugar over them. Add a little ground cinnamon. If the apples are flat-tasting, use the juice of one-half lemon with them. If apples are very sweet, use less sugar. Bake one-half hour in a medium oven."

OFF DAYS

There are some days that look 100 per cent just the minute that they open their eyes. And there are others that just peek at you from around strange corners—and you don't know which way to go.

It's like this latter on "off days." The first impulse is to frown, be careless and do nothing or to wait for the weather or somebody. But it is at such times that "sober second thoughts" should be mustered in.

Off days are as natural as the rainy day or the cold one, in contrast to the one full of sunshine and warmth. You just have to get acquainted with them as such and learn to handle them as you do a friend of many moods.

When the off day comes, do something—anything. For the most fatal thing is to do nothing or to wait for something to turn up on an off day. If you can't get into your work walk away from it. Match your ideas with a strong mind somewhere, take an hour or so into the out-of-doors, browse in a bookstore somewhere, if you love books. Literally change your clothes. Dress up in something different. Try to coax your "other I" to come out and play.

But never whip yourself on off days. They come to all. It is part of Nature's way.

The off day melts away or disappears just as a rainy day does. Nothing is permanent excepting that which constructs and builds.

Take your off days for granted. Chum with them. Make them events. Blessings often come wearing false faces. The clouds break when you least expect. Tomorrow is so fresh and free and possible with the off days behind!

WANT KRAUT STANDARD

Columbus, April 17—Sauerkraut manufacturers, whose national headquarters are at Clyde, Ohio, have been asked by federal government authorities to aid the U. S. government in fixing a standard for sauerkraut. The suggestion that a standard be determined was made by the sauerkraut manufacturers, it was stated, for the purpose of preventing the marketing of cabbage as kraut before it had reached the proper degree of fermentation.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

It is a curious but necessary provision of Nature that the blood, besides carrying the digested nourishment and the life-giving oxygen to all portions of the body, also removes a waste, poisonous product from the system. And from the very nature of our physical organization, the blood is the only agent that can be employed in this dual capacity.

It must be understood, of course, that each of the organs has a circulatory system of its own. Now, impure blood is brought into the kidneys through a channel known as the renal artery. This artery subdivides, and the subdivision is carried on and on, until every portion of the kidneys is supplied with arterial blood. From the branches of the arteries the blood passes into capillaries, which are the minute channels that exist between the arteries and veins. But in the kidneys, instead of a single system there is a double system of capillaries. These capillaries exist in numerous plexuses or networks, and before the blood can pass into the renal vein it must flow through the capillary membranes and thus on through the entire and complicated system of these minute vessels.

Now, the blood contains a surplus of water and, in solution, many waste matters, the most important of which is a substance called urea. While passing through the capillaries the blood is filtered; the surplus water and the solids that it holds in solution are absorbed through the thin membranes, and are passed on, while the blood thus purified enters the roots of the venous system that empties into the renal vein. In this manner, the blood that has been rid of its waste products is returned to the general circulation.

Not all the surplus moisture can be carried off by the kidneys. The skin has its share to do. If the skin is not active in its work of excreting surplus toxic moisture then that much more is forced upon the kidneys, and the latter organs, when overworked, become weakened and diseased.

The skin has three purposes. It protects the delicate tissues of the outer surfaces of the body; it acts as an organ of sense (touch) and it excretes moisture.

MANY AMERICAN DOLLARS FINDING WAY INTO FOREIGN INVESTMENTS

Washington, April 17.—The outflow of American dollars into foreign investment fields is proceeding at an enormous rate, it was revealed today in figures for the first three months of 1925.

In the face of unsettled political and economic conditions abroad, foreign financing for the first quarter of this year amounted to $344,000,000, according to compilations by the department of commerce.

It was officially estimated January 1, $10,000,000,000 in American money was invested abroad and on the basis of the new figures for 1925 officials estimated today the end of the year will see this total raised well above $11,000,000,000. This is all exclusive of the government's war debts.

On the other hand, foreign investments in the United States are estimated at approximately $3,000,000,000.

RECEIVE CUTS WHEN CAR HITS CULVERT

Eugene Osman, North Mechanic Street, received slight cuts about his face and Russell Suydam, Washington Street, was bruised about the face and head, when a Ford touring car owned and driven by Osman crashed head on into the abutment of a culvert two miles from Xenia on the Wilmington Pike Thursday night and overturned in a ditch.

The headlights were rendered useless when a fuse burned out, and Osman drove into the culvert before he was able to stop the car. The machine was completely wrecked and was taken to Gordon Brothers garage for repairs.

Osman was returning to Xenia at the time of the accident. He was able to walk home and had his cuts dressed by Dr. H. C. Messenger. Both Osman and Suydam were cut about the face by flying glass when the windshield of the car was smashed.

INDICT GIRL FOR ARRANGING DATES

Elyria, O., April 17.—Charged on two counts for her alleged arranging of clandestine meetings between young girls and men, Lucile Jones, 19, daughter of Rev. T. Howard Jones, former pastor of the Peoples Church at Lorain, will be arraigned in common pleas court here Saturday morning.

Indictments charging procuring and inducing in connection with her alleged sponsoring of the meetings were returned by the Lorain County Grand Jury Thursday.

A feature of the case is that the girl was apprehended as the direct result of individual investigations by her pastor father. The minister followed William Monschein, of Elviria, to an Elyria hotel and then notified police. The resultant disclosures involved his daughter as the alleged "arranger" of the clandestine trust.

Monschein will be one of the principal witnesses when the Jones girl is arraigned.

000 and are steadily decreasing—indicating that Europe is spending its money in expanding home industry rather than seeking foreign investment fields.

Foreign securities publicly offered for sale in this country totaled $279,000,000 for the three months, compared to $233,000,000 last year. About $41,000,000 represents refunding operations and the remainder new investments.

Private expansion of credit to foreign governments, banks and industrial corporations amounted to $65,000,000.

Interest on foreign securities held in this country will exceed a billion dollars this year, officials estimated. These investments are partially responsible for America's foreign trade, which estimates place at nearly $10,000,000,000 for 1925.

Two thirds of the foreign loans so far this year, went to governmental agencies, the remainder to private corporations. Last year only one ninth of the total went to commercial and industrial establishments.

During the first quarter of 1925, European governments and corporate enterprises borrowed $139,000,000 in the United States. German industry took $65,000,000. Other large European loans went to the republic of Poland, $35,000,000; the Est railroad of France $20,000,000 and the Republic of Finland $10,000,000.

Loans to Latin America totaled $56,000,000, a decline from last year. The Argentine government took $25,000,000; $10,000,000 went to the Cuba company and $15,000,000 to the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The Japanese loan of which $125,000,000 was floated in this country was the only Asiatic issue on the market.

Canadian loans for the first quarter were $67,000,000 compared to $36,000,000 last year, indicating that American bankers are obtaining much business which formerly went to London.

DETECTIVES MUST SERVE 18 MONTHS ON GRAFTING CHARGE

Cincinnati, April 17.—Detectives James Hayes and Fred Muller were convicted by a jury of conspiring to violate the federal prohibition law, were each sentenced to serve 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., and fined $2,000 today by U. S. District Judge Smith Hickenlooper.

Detective Robert Kinney was sentenced to a year and a day at Fort Leavenworth and fined $1,000.

The three gave notices of appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals and if necessary will carry the case to the U. S. supreme court. They were indicted in connection with Uncle Sam's investigation of graft conditions in the Cincinnati police force.

Fifty five other policemen, detectives and agents for county liquor courts pleaded guilty to accepting graft payments to protect bootleggers in the "black belt" or negro district, but Hayes, Muller and Kinney entered pleas of "not guilty." They were the first to be tried. Their defense was based on the fact that witnesses for the government were bootleggers and persons of unsavory reputation. Many character witnesses were introduced by the trio to show they always had enjoyed good reputations and were known as fearless guardians of the law who had "shot it out" with bandits on several occasions.

The maximum penalty, was two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Judge Hickenlooper overruled a motion for a new trial filed Friday morning and argued immediately thereafter. The trials of nine Cincinnati policemen, indicted on similar charges will begin late Friday.

Hayes, Muller and Kinney were recently assigned to the night detective force, after having served several years as members of the flying squad of sleuths assigned to break up the liquor traffic and to war on handbooks.

TRIAL POSTPONED FOR COMPLETION AT LATER TIME IN COURT

Unable to finish the trial of Mrs. Mariana Snyder Markley of Yellow Springs, against the Northwestern Life Insurance Company in scheduled time, the case was discontinued by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy, Thursday afternoon and will be resumed at a later date, it is said.

Mrs. Markley, alleged in her suit that her husband changed his $4,000 life insurance policy before his death making his mother beneficiary instead of his wife.

Mrs. Lotia Markley, of Cincinnati, mother of Victim Markley, the husband of the plaintiff received the entire amount of the policy, according to the petitioner.

Evidence was introduced during the Wednesday session by the plaintiff that her husband had been cared for in the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Snyder in Yellow Springs, prior to his death. She testified he was subject to tuberculosis and in order to minimize his suffering took small quantities of morphine. She said every thing was alright between them until his mother removed him to her home in Cincinnati.

Miss Louise Snyder, her sister, testified the young wife was not allowed to communicate with her husband and that he was taken to Arizona without her knowledge. She learned of his death through the newspapers, she said.

Although originally docketed for trial by jury, Judge Gowdy ruled it was not a case for the jury and dismissed the prospective jurors at an early stage in the trial.

Attorneys H. D. Smith and Marcus Shoup represent the plaintiff with Miller and Finney and a Cincinnati attorney representing the insurance company.

ROMANCE

YOU often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement, of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

of business is doing for you.

JUNIORS OF CENTRAL HIGH ABLY PRESENT "POLLYANNA" AS ANNUAL CLASS OFFERING

Members of the junior class of Central High School ably presented, "Pollyanna," the "glad girl," as their class play at the school auditorium Thursday night before a large and appreciative audience.

Under the capable direction of Miss Jean B. Elwell, the well picked cast acquitted itself unusually well at the opening performance.

The scene of the "glad play" adapted by Catherine Christolm Cushing, and based on the novel by Eleanor H. Porter, is laid in a New England village. The story deals with the experiences of Pollyanna, an orphan girl, whom fate has thrust into the home of a maiden aunt.

Unwelcomed by her, the "glad girl"

who sees a ray of sunshine in everything, undergoes many trials and tribulations while managing always to find something to be glad about.

Pollyanna gains a reputation as the girl miracle worker in the village by acting the good Samaritan, and finally after straightening out the affairs of her elders, is rewarded at last by finding happiness in the heart of Jimmy, an orphan, who it is later found, is of distinguished parentage.

Barbara Little, as Pollyanna Whitfield, ably portrayed her part, and shouldering the leading role, put much of reality in her characterization of the mischievous and happy little "glad girl."

George Perrill, as John Pendleton, Esq., dubbed "King Grouch," by Pollyanna, had a sincere and matter-of-fact way, that immediately won the audience, while permitting himself to be cured of an old heart sore by Pollyanna, daughter of his former sweetheart, who tells a story in the sacred precincts of his "castle," which the King has not permitted himself to think about for twenty years.

Miss Polly Harrington, the austere and reserved maiden aunt, was well portrayed by Helen Reutinger, whose heart of stone was finally melted by Pollyanna, whose gift for inquisitiveness revived an old love affair with Dr. Chilton, Pendleton's best friend, and a flame of Polly.

Robert Currie, as Dr. Chilton, duplicated the professional air of the physician, and became the "happiest man in the world" when he found Polly had kept his picture in her pocket for the past twenty years.

The entire cast was well selected, with William Wead as Jimmy Bean, Jr., an orphan at the age of twelve dirty but with a child affection for Pollyanna that was fed until at the age of seventeen, he completely lost his heart to the "glad girl."

Robert Finlay took the role of Jimmy Bean, Sr. at the age of seventeen and the resemblance with his "double" William Wead, both in voice and manner was remarkable.

The comedy element was introduced in the first act when Jane Hayward, Elizabeth Piper and Elizabeth Stout, as Mrs. Carmody, Miss Carroll and Mrs. Gregg, of the "Ladies Aiders," conducted a "gab fest" in the home of Polly Harrington rehearsing family secrets and love affairs.

Josephine John, as Nancy, the talkative servant of Miss Polly, added another comic element to the performance with her keen Irish wit and gabby manner.

The part of policeman, Pendleton's man, was well taken by Robert Downing Arnold Boxwell as the chauffeur and Mary Wilson as the nurse also ably portrayed their roles.

The performance will be repeated Friday night at the auditorium, before what is expected to be a capacity attendance judging from the advance ticket sale.

MAHARAJAH OF JEDHPUR

Housed in one of the most luxurious mansions in Wimbledon, London's exclusive suburb, are the Maharajah of Jedhpur, four of his wives and a suit of thirty—and London is reveling in stories of the dusky Indian whose wealth is unbelievable.

He took eight limousines and seventy polo ponies to England with him, and his wives move about only in enclosed sedan chairs, even the servants being forbidden to look at them.

LAGOON EXCAVATION STARTED AT PARK

Excavating for the lagoon in the new city part in the Dadds Addition was begun Friday morning. The dirt from the lagoon will be used to fill in the street running parallel with Detroit Street, and by Summer it is expected that the street can be traveled as far as Union Street.

A bridge is being constructed over the creek at the end of the North Detroit Street boulevard. The completion of the clean-up work in the park and with the progress of the present plans the park is rapidly becoming a beauty site for the city.

BRADFUTE URGES OBSERVANCE OF 4TH

Summons to a nation-wide old-time Fourth of July celebration "with chicken dinners, bands and speeches," under the auspices of 1,800 county Farm Bureau units was issued in a statement Thursday by O. E. Bradfute, Xenia, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It is particularly fitting," the statement said, "the farmers should take the lead in stimulating a great national July Fourth celebration this year. It was just 150 years ago that a group of American farmers gathered at Concord Bridge and fired the first shot in the great battle for American independence."

"We are not limiting this celebration to farmers. We are asking each county farm bureau to invite the cooperation of every individual and organization within the country."

Appearing on the stage with Mr. Attwood will be Judge Kunkle, Springfield, Grand Chancellor of Ohio, who will make a short address.

The lecture will be free to the public and all fraternal and secret societies and all other organizations are cordially invited to attend. The meeting will be in charge of B. D. Merriek county K. of P. deputy.

Have you ever thought of Life Insurance in this connection? Figure how many cases you find where the insured has paid in as much as the face of the contract. You'll find it almost impossible to find such a case. It is only a matter of how much of an investment return their is in a life insurance contract.

Let's take a man thirty-five years of age, his rate on an ordinary life policy is $20.00 per thousand. According to mortality figures he has less than thirty-two years in which to live. Suppose he dies the first year, the investment on his $20.00 is five thousand per cent; if he has paid two premiums twenty-five hundred percent; if he has paid four premiums it is twelve hundred per cent; five premiums, one thousand percent; ten premiums, five hundred per cent, and so on. The policy does not cost him a cent until he has paid fifty premiums or when he has reached the age of eighty-five. Call or let us call and show you more about life insurance.

Ford Air Service Inaugurated

The first real step forward in commercial aviation was made when the Maiden Dearborn, the first of Henry Ford's all-metal airplanes, hopped off from Dearborn Field, Detroit, Michigan, laden with a thousand pounds of freight, for Chicago. The Maiden Dearborn was piloted by Edward G. Mamin, with Harry Russell as mechanic. The plane is the first of a projected fleet of all-metal ships which will maintain a regular air service between Chicago and Detroit. Ford has announced that as soon as the Chicago-Detroit service is in full swing three new services would be started, one to operate to St. Louis, another to Iron Mountain, Mich., and the third to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn. Photo shows Ford placing a package aboard the plane just before it hopped off on its initial flight from Detroit.

HOLD MAN IN PROBE OF MORRISON CASE

Akron, Ohio, April 17—George Warren, 46, colored of Cleveland was to be quizzed today by Sheriff Chris Weaver in connection with the murder last Friday of John Morrison, at Northfield who was shot as he slept in bed, while his family was absent from the house.

Only a charge of suspicion has been made against Warren who was arrested by Barney Ullum, deputy sheriff, because the prisoner is said to have been well acquainted with Morrison and an intimate associate at a time when Morrison managed an estate at Northfield for a Cleveland attorney. After the house on this property burned, Morrison was dismissed and sought other employment.

The sheriff has a different theory regarding the murder, one which other officials concurred in at first, but later abandoned. Weaver does not believe Warren will be implicated and is still pursuing his own line of investigation, which involves a woman and possibly a man.

WIFE BEATERS TO GET SAME MEDICINE

Baltimore, April 17—Wife-beaters who appear before Judge Henry Duffy, in Criminal Court here, in future will receive more than tongue-lashing for sentence—they will receive a whipping. The Judge made known his intention after hearing the case of Mrs. Edda Simmons against her husband, Robert.

Mrs. Simmons testified her husband beat and kicked her because she didn't give him enough money out of her pay envelope. Judge Duffy gave Simmons six months in the House of Correction.

"The next wife-beater who comes before me," said the Judge, "will be surprised to learn I have revived the use of the whipping post in Maryland."

The Judge will find it easy to make good his threat, as the official whipping post, long regarded as a relic of other days still stands in the yard at City Jail, ready for the next victim to receive the proverbial "thirty lashes."

WILL GIVE LECTURE AT CHURCH SUNDAY

The Rev. James P. Lytle, of the First U. P. Church, has just received a new illustrated lecture from Pittsburgh, which he will give at the evening service, Sunday. It is of special interest in that it consists for the greater part of recent camera and snapshot views of work done through the New World Movement contributions.

The lecture is to be used in the U. P. Churches of XeniaPresbytery and was exhibited by the Rev. Mr. Lytle, at the meeting in Springfield, Monday night. The views are intended and arranged to give information up to date.

ICELAND WILL BAR FOREIGN FISHERS

Reykjavik, Iceland, April 17—Drastic changes in Government policy are expected from the present session of the Icelandic parliament. The Conservative Party has control of the Government, but with only a slight majority, and the opposition from the Farmers' Party is most active. The Socialist Party is also active and insistent upon changes in the present policy.

Stiffening of the laws for the protection of the Icelandic fishing industry is expected. It is anticipated that the Parliament will enact a law to prevent foreign trawlers having stations in Iceland, and will prevent citizens of Iceland from acting as "dummy owners" for foreign fishing corporations.

ONE BORN EVERY DAY

Folks, meet Professor Bunkum! Palmist! He's read all the crowned heads of Europe and the blockheads of America. Tells your past—reveals your future. Remarkable! Well, I guess.

You enter his office and write your name and date of birth on a slip of paper. The professor places the slip of paper in an envelope, seals the envelope and burns it before your eyes. You go into an adjoining room for a few seconds to think of the questions you are going to ask.

"Mrs. Agnes Smith, take this chair," he tells you when you are called back from the room. You marvel at his powers at finding out your name and open wide your eyes when he tells you the date of your birth. Of course you don't know that there was a small slit in the bottom of the envelope, that the slip containing your name and date of birth dropped into his coat sleeve and that only the envelope was burned. While you were in the next room he read the slip.

"Is Harry true to me?"

Well, now you have asked something. Give him seven hairs from the top of your head and a dollar extra and he will tell you on the following Tuesday. A scheme to get an extra dollar.

At the World's Fair in St. Louis a palmist told a Florida man he had some oil stocks at home which would some day bring him a fortune if he bought a charm for $50. He bought the charm and the oil stocks did bring the fortune. A few years later he lost the charm. He saw another palmist and told him his story. He wanted the charm replaced. The palmist charged him $500, which he gladly paid. The charm was a five cent drug dropped in cotton. The buyer believed it was "imported from the river Jordan, 50 yards from where Christ was crucified." Barium was wrong. There are several born every minute.

I talked with the professor a short time ago. He told of being in several Ohio cities and of how he fleeced the public. He is now selling patent medicine. And people are falling for his dope. The same as they did for his palmistry.

The Gazette endeavors to print only truthful advertising and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertisements not conforming to the highest standards of honesty.

I know just how little my fortune is and don't care for any palm reader to tell me about it. I am reminded of it often enough now.

Fortunes are made through advertising. Be sure to choose the right kind of advertising and the right medium. We'd like to talk over Gazette classified advertising with you.

CITY EXAMINERS TO HOLD EXAMINATION FOR TEACHERS MAY 2

The Xenia City Board of School examiners will hold a regular meeting for the examination of teachers Saturday, May 2, in the superintendent's office at Central High School beginning at 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time. The examination fee is fifty cents. Members of the board are, Anna B. Morrow, president, Harper C. Pendry, vice president and C. A. Waltz, clerk.

The following are the rules and regulations pertaining to the entrance to and conditions of the examination: This year the new law regarding professional training comes into full effect and no elementary teacher who has had less than eight years of experience prior to 1920 and no high school or special teacher with less than five years of high school or special experience prior to 1920 may be admitted to examination with less than fifteen semester hours (one half year in the law) of professional credit.

Elementary and special teachers must have a total credit of at least thirty semester hours and high school teachers, at least sixty semester hours. Those holding renewable certificates may renew these certificates by taking the examination. If unable to secure sufficient additional credit to renew them without examination, no one-year certificate secured by examination is renewable. All one-year and the first three-year special and high school certificates must be obtained by examination. Any three-year certificate is renewable.

Any high school teacher possessing a standard degree and any special teacher possessing sixty semester hours of training may secure a renewal of any three-year certificate without examination, if he has fifteen semester hours of professional credit. Any elementary teacher possessing forty-eight semester hours of normal training evaluated as fifty-four weeks, may secure a renewal of a renewable certificate without examination. It will be remembered, of course, that local boards of examiners may require examination in Principles of Teaching and in other subjects if desirable, for the renewal of any certificate, and also that no fee may be charged unless an examination of some kind is given.

All persons desiring to take the examination for a certificate or renewal must present official evaluations of their credits from the state department. Since January 1, 1924 the qualifications for admission to city examinations have been the same as for admission to county examinations. Of course, all that has been said herein regarding city examinations applies as well to those held in exempted village districts.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XVIII. Michael forgot to tell Sally Warbe that he was going out for dinner until he came home from the office and the hurt surprise his announcement occasioned implied that she had made unusual preparations for this meal. The idea of inviting Lilah here for dinner flitted through his mind, but was instantly discarded. No, she probably would not like to come alone, and he did not wish anyone else to be present. Besides, he had a table reserved at the Moscow, a fashionable cafe opened a few evenings previously, which Lilah naturally would be interesting in seeing.

Of course, he dressed with unusual care. He had visited his favorite barber shop before coming home, and his hair and his face and his nails had never looked better. So that when he faced Sally in the hallway as he descended from his room she grinned. "You're either going to propose or be married."

"I wish you'd hush up about marriage, Sally; you'll drive me to it."

She answered his laugh with a broader grin, had watched him depart just a little sadly. He seemed to be a different Michael now. And the lovely dinner she had planned for him—well, no use to cry over spilled milk. Still—

She slowly returned to the dining room, and rang for the maid to clear the table.

Lilah, too, appeared to have given unusual care to her appearance this evening. Her hair floated in a wavy marcel, and around it was a bandeau of the same color as her gown, a thrilling creation in green, with stockings and slippers to match. She wore a diamond breast pin, and a ring set with a small emerald, her birthstone, and a few other jewelry.

Only a few women among many can wear green and find it becoming; and Lilah Pharely was one of them.

She seemed more beautiful than ever before as Michael glanced furtively at her as they ploughed through traffic, her eyes blinking in the wind which was tossing about little wisps of her uncovered hair.

"I'll close the window, if you like," he suggested, leaning toward her door of the automobile.

"No, no, I like the breeze. I like to dash into it. Did you ever stand on a high rock while the wind was blowing fiercely into your face? It exalts me, and gives me a glorified feeling. I'm crazy about flying." Her eyes had a far-away look.

"Have you done much flying?"

"Only once or twice," she responded with interest. "I flew from London to Paris last summer."

"Oh! How long were you in

TAX RETURNS ARE COMING IN SLOWLY

Personal property tax returns are being made slowly during the first few days of the tax listing period according to County Auditor R. O. Wead. Approximately 8,500 returns must be made in the county by May 1 to receive the $100 exemption, according to an estimate based on receipts of the preceding year.

Returns are always made scatteringly during the first few days, according to Auditor Wead, who reminds property owners that there are but twelve remaining days to fill out the blanks.

It is also pointed out that those making returns must first be sworn by a notary or assessor. The oath is attached to the blank.

McClelland Neighborhood

The McClelland W. C. T. U. held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. William Haines. A trio by Mrs. Cynthia Ginn and Misses Zetta and Margaret McClelland and two numbers by the ladies' quartette were very much appreciated. A splendid talk was given by Miss Lella Quinn on Sabbath observance. A refreshment course of cakes and cocoa was served by the hostess and her assistants.

Tuesday evening, neighbors and friends numbering seventy-five gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harner of the Upper Bellbrook pike, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall who will leave for their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall have been active in the social life of the community and will be greatly missed. Kenneth Fulkerson is about again after a siege of scarlet fever.

Dean Moore has hired to Mr. Carter of Lower Bellbrook pike for the season.

Mrs. O. T. Coblenz of Upper Bellbrook pike, is quite ill.

Dr. Leroy Haines and family of Jamestown and Fred Haines and family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Haines, Saturday, celebrating the birthday of Mr. Haines.

WALTZ TO CONDUCT EXAM. FOR TEACHERS

C. A. Waltz, City school superintendent, will go to Eaton, O., May 9, to conduct the Teacher Training Entrance Examination held under the direction of Miami University for the State Department of Education.

This examination is for all high school seniors who are thinking about the possibility of teaching in the elementary grades. If the pupil is rather uncertain about his plans, he will find it is best to take the examination so that he will be able to enter normal school in the fall, if he should later decide to do so, according to Mr. Waltz.

If the pupil expects to go to summer school May 9, examination will take care of that also. There are no plans for later examinations, so it is important that everyone come in May 9.

The examination in Xenia will be under the direction of Superintendent D. H. Sellers, of Miami County. The time and place of this examination in Xenia will be announced later.
